OFFICE OF THE

State Board of Stock Commissioners.

Helena, Mont., January 1, 1896.

To His Excellency, Honorable J. E. Rickards, Governor of the State of Montana:

Sir—The Montana Board of Stock Commissioners respectfully begs leave to tender you its tenth annual report, embodying a synopsis of the work of the Board during the year 1895, and including as an appendix the reports of the General Recorder of Marks and Brands, and the State Veterinary Surgeon for the same year.

Shortly after the beginning of the year the terms of all the members of the Board expired and the following named stockmen were appointed to fill the vacancies and to represent on the Board their respective counties:

- Commissioner for Beaverhead County—C. H. Padley, Dillon.
- Commissioner for Carbon County—J. N. Tolman, Red Lodge.
- Commissioner for Cascade County—J. G. Rumney Cascade.
- Commissioner for Choteau County—C. J. McNamara, Big Sandy.
- Commissioner for Custer County—Jesse Haston, Miles City.
- Commissioner for Dawson County—Edward Marron, Glendive.
- Commissioner for Deer Lodge County—John Bielenberg, Deer Lodge.
- Commissioner for Fergus County—S. S. Hobson, Utica.
- Commissioner for Jefferson County—S. S. Huntley, Toston.
- Commissioner for Lewis and Clarke County—John T. Murphy, Helena.
- Commissioner for Madison County—Alex. Metzel, Puller Springs.
- Commissioner for Meagher County—Len Lewis, Ft. Logan.
- Commissioner for Park County—John Conrow, Livingston.
- Commissioner for Silver Bow County—Geoffrey Lavelle, Butte.
- Commissioner for Sweet Grass County—J. N. Kelley, Hunter's Hot Springs.
- Commissioner for Teton County—W. K. Flowerree, Sun River.
- Commissioner for Valley County—M. E. Milner, Malta.
- Commissioner for Yellowstone County—David Fratt, Billings.

At the first meeting of the new Board, Mr. J. T. Murphy was elected its president, Mr. S. S. Huntley vice-president, and Mr. W. G. Preuitt secretary, for the ensuing year.

With the commencement of the year the Board's force of inspectors consisted of but 5 men, J. H. Lander being stationed at Chicago, H. E. Bourdette at St. Paul, R. H. Rickard at South Omaha, and W. D. Smith and S. J. Heron within the limits of the State of Montana. In the early spring Mr. Heron resigned his position and was succeeded by Mr. Harry Lund. As the summer advanced it became evident that in order to secure reliable and effective work at the markets, an increase in the force was necessary, and Chas. Van Dyke was commissioned to assist at St. Paul, and Messrs. R. P. Heren, Elmer Briggs, George Gibson and Robert Wilcox were placed at Chicago, to assist in the inspection of cattle. In addition to this, Mr. W. H. Rhoades also was employed to perform the clerical work attached to the Chicago office. Mr. Wilcox was commissioned especially to look after the inspection of North Dakota cattle, under an arrangement between this Board and the North Dakota Association mentioned hereinafter. Later in the season Mr. Bourdette, having demonstrated his ability to perform the duties at St. Paul without assistance, Mr. Van Dyke was transferred to Chicago. In the early spring Mr. D. C. Keltz was appointed inspector along the line of the Burlington railway, Mr. W. E. Cathey along the line of the Elkhorn railway, and Mr. B. H. Fleming at the Standing Rock and Cheyenne Indian agencies in North Dakota, for the inspection of the beef deliveries to the Indians, and in response to the many calls within the borders of the State Mr. J. W. Collins was commissioned as inspector for Butte and surrounding country, Mr. T. C. Beattie for Meagher and Jefferson Counties, with headquarters at Toston, and as many as nine stockmen hold commissions without pay, in order that they may serve the Board in the capacity of inspector, and thus afford protection to the stock interests of their immediate neighborhoods. This force was continued until in November, when the services of all but Messrs. Lander, Bourdette, Rickard, Smith, Lund, Heren and Collins were discontinued, owing to a lack of funds with which to keep them employed on salary.

The workings of the inspection system, both at the markets and within the borders of the State, have been unusually satisfactory during the past season. Stockmen in general who are acquainted with the methods employed in this work and the gratifying results obtained, are unanimous in their approval of the thorough and effective system in vogue. The force of inspectors consists of reliable and conscientious men, and, as may be seen by the appended table of statistics, some of them have been particularly efficient in the capture and conviction of law breakers, the total number of arrests during the year aggregating twenty-nine persons, quite a number of whom are now paying the penalty of their crimes in the penitentiary. The force of inspectors was considerably larger than in previous years, and as almost every one of them had been on the force before, the results accomplished were greater and more effective than heretofore.

In many respects the year 1895 was a remarkable one in the history of the stock industry. During the early part of the season the cry went up all over our land that there was an immense shortage of beef cattle and that the demand would far exceed the supply, the result being that the markets were higher than for some years, but as the season advanced and the west poured its cattle into the great markets, there was a total collapse, and whereas the season opened with extremely high prices, the end was marked with as low a market as has been known in many years. Stockmen who made early shipments were exceedingly fortunate in securing unusually good prices, but the later shipments, especially the very late ones, fared worse than in previous years, as a rule. The early spring promised a very discouraging season on account of short feed and scarcity of water, but the late spring rains were effectual in providing both feed and water, and as the cattle took on flesh very rapidly, they averaged up in better condition than usual, a large number of Montana cattle being considered good enough for the export trade. The total number of cattle on the markets from Montana somewhat exceeded that of last year, and the results of the inspectors' work were proportionately greater. The shipments of cattle during the year 1895 aggregated 246,460 head, the slaughter for home consumption being about 60,000 head, making the total output 306,460 head. We find, after a careful computation, that the average price for the year was a trifle over $36 per head; thus it will be seen that the cattle industry alone has brought more than eleven millions of dollars into the State during the year 1895. In the report of the State Veterinarian, appended hereto, the estimate of the number of cattle brought into Montana during the year is in the neighborhood of 70,000 head.

There is no means of ascertaining the calf crop, and we would not undertake to give an estimate of it.

During 1895 our inspectors recovered 24,245 strays, representing a value of almost one million dollars. 4,930 of this number were remitted to the owners through the Stock Growers' Association, the proceeds of these aggregating $179,721, which amount has been distributed among the respective owners, residing in every part of the State. The strays not accounted for were paid direct to the owners in accordance with special arrangements made by many stockmen, whereby their funds are deposited with some banking house for their credit. The above figures show that the work of the past year exceeds in volume that of any previous year, but this may naturally be expected in view of the improved methods and increased efficiency of the system conducted by the Board.

We append hereto a brief summary of the work of the Board since its organization, with reference to the inspection system only:

Year	Cattle Inspected	Est. Value at $35	Strays Recovered.	Amt. rec'd for strays	No. of arrests.	No. of Inspectors.

The arrangement made in 1894, whereby the Montana Board should inspect cattle belonging to the members of the North Dakota Stockgrowers' Association, was renewed for 1895, with slight modifications, and they were given the benefit of our system, for which they paid this Board the sum of $750, which amount was used for the purpose of maintaining an extra inspector at the Chicago yards. A like arrangement was made with the Ft. Pierre Association of South Dakota, under which they contributed the sum of $200, this amount being used in like manner as the contribution of the North Dakota Association. We have received ample assurance from both Associations that the work performed was highly satisfactory to them.

Liberal contributions toward defraying the expense of inspection at the various markets and local points have been received from the prominent stockmen ranging stock on the Crow Reservation and on the ranges adjacent to our State lines as such cattle are exempt from taxation within the State and therefore not entitled to the benefits of our work, but owing to these contributions they have received protection equal to that afforded our own stockmen. In addition to the above, the stock-yards companies of St. Paul contributed sufficient to maintain one extra inspector at their yards during the season of 1894, under an agreement made with them in the spring of that year.

The codes adopted by the last Legislature have made some alterations in the stock laws of Montana, but the changes are for the better rather than otherwise. The law pertaining to the keeping of records by the railway companies, showing brands, etc., of stock killed by trains, has not been amended particularly, but this law is very strict, giving owners of stock killed an opportunity to collect an amount in excess of the actual value unless the railway companies make settlement within a given period. This is not generally understood, but we believe as a rule settlements have been made promptly. Our inspectors regularly inspect the hides of stock killed and report the same to the office of our secretary, who in turn notifies the respective owners, and the reports for the past year show a total of 557 head of live stock killed in Montana by the railway trains.

The law regarding the slaughtering of cattle for beef was amended very materially, and every person now slaughtering cattle, whether a licensed butcher or not, must retain possession of the hide of the animal slaughtered for ten days thereafter, exposing same to any person upon demand. In addition to this, butchers are required to keep a complete record of cattle purchased for slaughter, showing brands, date of purchase, and name of party from whom purchased. This is an important law to the stockmen, as there has been much illegal butchering at the expense of the live stock owners, and a strong effort is being made to compel every butcher and other person slaughtering cattle to observe this law. Stockmen who have been commissioned as special inspectors without pay will look particularly after the enforcement of this law, and our regular force of inspectors will also devote considerable attention to the illegal butchers.

The bounty law has probably been the most beneficial in its workings of any law ever passed for the protection of the stock interests, and we are safe in saying that many thousands of dollars have been saved to the stockmen since the passage of that act creating a bounty fund on wolves. The wolves are fast disappearing, and on some ranges have actually become scarce. Many hunting outfits have equipped themselves for a winter campaign against these pests, and it is but a question of a few years, with such a law in operation, until the wolf will have become conspicuous on account of his scarcity. Immense quantities of strychnine are being used by the various roundup associations, and placed in the hands of every person who will make use of it in destroying wolves, and no doubt there are hundreds of them killed that are never found, as they crawl into their dens to die.

The Board still experiences some difficulty in inducing all of the counties to make the tax levy for the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund and as a result we are hampered by lack of funds with which to properly carry on this work. In spite of the fact that stockmen are unanimous in favor of making this levy, some of the county commissioners oppose it, although the stockmen of their counties are constantly appealing to the Board for help and protection from the rustling element. There appears to be no valid reason why this tax should not be levied, because it falls solely upon the stockmen, all of whom are benefited alike at the markets, and if we could have a complete levy throughout the State we could easily maintain a greater number of inspectors for range work, as well as to render greater assistance in the prosecution of offenders against the stock laws. Owing to this lack of funds we are compelled every year to curtail the force after a few months' work, and the stock interests in some localities are left without the protection they should and would have if every one co-operated for the furtherance of this work. However, the levy the past autumn was more general than for many years, and with but two exceptions all of the stock counties in the State are now working under this law, and we hope to accomplish much more during the coming year than we have in 1895.

Wherever the workings of the Board are understood, there is no dissatisfaction, and any complaints that are made invariably come through ignorance of the methods employed by the Board in conducting this work of protection. Every section of the State is represented on the Board, and the funds collected are disbursed under the supervision and direction of the entire Board, with a view to doing the greatest and widest good in the most effectual manner. The Board themselves receive no compensation, pecuniarily, for their services, a fact not generally understood.

The Montana Stockgrowers' Association turned over to this Board in the year 1895 the sum of $5,011, to assist in carrying on our work for the benefit and protection of the stock interests, and were it not for these liberal contributions from the association, we would be utterly unable to accomplish the results we do. The association has always been extremely liberal in its support of the Board and its work, both financially and morally, and the stock interests in general owe much to this organization.

We incorporate herein a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund, as shown by the books of the State Treasurer and Auditor, but as the itemized statement of receipts and expenditures has already been published in their reports and has received wide circulation, we omit repeating it here:

According to the appendix hereto, showing brands recorded during the year, there has been a total of about 850 brands placed on the records since the beginning of the year. Applications for brands continue to pour in, and it is getting more difficult each year to obtain a brand. The rules governing the recording of brands remain the same as last year.

The State Veterinarian reports the sanitary condition of stock favorably, and although feed is short, we do not anticipate any severe losses unless we should experience a rigorous winter.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN T. MURPHY, President.

W. G. PREUITT, Secretary.

STATE OF MONTANA.

Veterinarian's Office.

Helena, Mont., December 31, 1895.

To the Honorable, the Board of Stock Commissioners, State of Montana:

Gentlemen—In accordance with the provisions of Sec. 3007 of the Political Code, it becomes my duty to submit to you my annual report as State Veterinary Surgeon.

This report may be prefaced by the statement that the veterinary-sanitary conditions which have prevailed among all classes of live stock during the past year have been exceedingly favorable.

There has been perfect freedom from epizootic diseases of a malignant nature, and those maladies which have become established in the State for years back have not been either so prevalent or pronounced in their pathological characteristics, as has been remarked in some former years.

Range cattle during the past season maintained a high standard of health. They came through last winter in fair condition, and although feed in the early spring and summer was backward and not extra abundant in many sections, still the highly nutritious nature of the grasses produced rapid fattening, and cattle were consigned to market under very favorable auspices.

The diseases which have come under my observation will be briefly reviewed.

A few reports were received of young stock dying in early spring from supposed vegetable poisoning. An investigation showed that the fatality in these cases was due to the eating inordinately of succulent green plants, which induced a severe tympanites, but that whenever liberation of the accumulated gas could be speedily effected by "tapping," the subjects recovered.

This condition of tympanites is a common one in cattle when access is first had to certain green foods, and animals die with astonishing rapidity from purely mechanical interference with the functions of respiration.

The depreciation in value which range cattle undergo from the presence of "actinomycoses," or "big jaw," should induce all available means to be taken to limit the spread of the affection. First among these is to rid the ranges of all incurable diseased animals by converting them into wolf bait, and wherever practicable all the early cases of the disease should be subjected to the therapeutic effects of the iodide of potassium, which has been found to be almost specific in a large percentage of cases.

As regards tuberculosis, a few cases of which have been seen and disposed of, it may be stated that among range cattle proper no proof of the existence of tuberculosis can be advanced, and in the case of the dairy cattle of the State, it can be safely asserted that at the present time tuberculosis exists only to a limited degree. While additional legislative measures are undoubtedly needed to deal effectively with this disease, good service might in the meantime be rendered in the interests of the public health, to which bovine tuberculosis bears an unpleasantly close relationship, if local boards of health would inaugurate a periodical veterinary inspection of all dairy cattle within their districts, whereby existing centers of the disease, however limited could be definitely ascertained. The great value of "Tuberculin" in determining the existence of tuberculosis in suspected herds of dairy cattle has been so fully proved that one eastern State, at least, in which the disease is rife, has made its use compulsory.

Symptomatic Anthrax, or Blackleg, prevails to a limited extent in certain localities. In those districts where young cattle are known to be subject to blackleg it has been found that a change to a less nutritious diet with enforced exercise and the insertion of a seton in the dewlap are valuable means of preventing losses. The destruction of all carcasses by burning should be carefully attended to.

SOUTHERN CATTLE IMPORTATION.

The sanitary regulations under which Texas cattle have been admitted into Montana during the past season were the same as in former years, and no case of Splenic Fever has been recorded. The geographical limits of the fever line are fully detailed in the regulations issued by the Department of Agriculture, and need not be referred to here.

The inspection of cattle coming to Montana was made conjointly with Colorado, at a cost of $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents per head to the shipper, and I take it that the system has been found to conveniently answer, although a hardship has been imposed upon certain individual shippers through the seemingly perverse action of the State of Wyoming in insisting upon an additional inspection of all cattle journeying through that State, at an extra expense to the shipper.

Notwithstanding representations made to the Wyoming authorities, it is to be feared that until the State laws now in operation there are altered, the eminently unjust modus operandi referred to will continue to embarrass shippers of southern cattle coming up that way.

The following statement of cattle inspected during the season of 1895 is furnished by the State Veterinarian of Colorado:

Total number of cattle inspected.....	280,869
By the A. T. & S. F. Ry.....	206,319
By the U. P. D. & G. Ry.....	58,535
By trail	16,015
	—————280,869

They were destined for the following States:

Colorado	46,109
Wyoming	39,049
Montana	32,393
Orrin Junction, Wyo. (mostly for Montana).....	46,562
Dakotas	35,237
Kansas	72,773
Other States	8,746

From the foregoing statement it may be estimated that something like 70,000 head of southern cattle reached Montana ranges during the season of 1895.

It may be noted that the North Dakota authorities charge an inspection fee on all stock imported into that State from Montana, unless accompanied by a health certificate. Intending shippers can prevent all inconvenience arising by securing a health certificate from the veterinary officer of their district to accompany their shipments.

The health of horses in general has been decidedly good. Glanders is the most virulent of the maladies affecting the horses of the State, and it can be confidently asserted that it is not on the increase. In the county of Gallatin, where the disease seems to have gained a firm foothold in past years, Dr. Williams, of Bozeman, estimates that there has been a decrease of 50 per cent since the winter of 1893-94.

During the nine months ending the 31st of December, 1895, fifty-two head of glandered horses were disposed of in the manner laid down in the statutes. A few others were probably disposed of by owners themselves. The subjoined list shows the counties in which these diseased horses were dealt with:

County.	No.
Carbon	4
Cascade	4
Choteau	3
Lewis and Clarke	2
Madison	11
Sweet Grass	1
Yellowstone	10
Gallatin	15
Missoula	1
Flathead	1
Total	52

It is evident that glanders cannot be stamped out of the State with the enactments now in operation, but if horse owners will pay close attention to the obligations imposed upon them by the statutes, and show an earnest desire to get rid of the malady by reporting all cases, and by hearty co-operation afterwards with the veterinarian, the disease will be kept sufficiently controlled so as not to become a serious detriment to the horse business. The general use of "Mallein" as a diagnostic might advantageously be resorted to by horse owners themselves in those outlying districts where professional veterinary advice cannot always be obtained, in assisting them to ascertain the nature of all dubious cases of nasal disease.

The prevalence of that unique diseased condition in horses generally attributed to the eating of "Loco Plant" has been quite marked in certain districts, and in the absence of more exact knowledge as to its etiology, the only possible indications for its prevention is to keep horses from grazing on those tracts of country known to be infested with the weed.

Another disease affecting range horses principally, and which in the past has been very destructive, but which has prevailed to a limited extent this season, is known by the indefinite appellation of "Range Fever." The clinical and necroscopical characters of this disease point to some pathogenic organism in the blood as the active agent, and this is in all probability developed upon and conveyed into the system by the food. Early removal of horses from ranges upon which this disease appears should be resorted to, and the treatment of sick animals in accordance with the established rules of hygiene and therapeutics will promote recoveries.

It is observed, however, that, although horses convalesce from this disease, they frequently have imperfect control of the hind extremities and are accordingly of little value for work purposes.

With regard to swine, no disease affecting them has been reported.

All calls made upon this office from whatever section of the State have been as promptly attended to as possible in person, and considerable correspondence has been engaged in with parties both within and without the State, connected with matters relating to the sanitary welfare of live stock.

STOCK INDEMNITY FUND.

This fund has the following showing, obtained from the office of the State Treasurer:

Total receipts in 1895	$1,769 14
Balance from former year	2,931 70
Total for year	$4,700 84
Paid out	2,218 90
Balance on hand	$2,481 94

The attention of your Honorable Board may appropriately be called to the fact that the counties of Cascade, Choteau, Fergus, Flathead, Park, Teton and Yellowstone failed to contribute anything last year to the above fund.

The Boards of County Commissioners in the counties named evidently neglected to levy the tax as required by law, although several of these counties derived benefits from the general fund.

Some action should be taken to see that the tax is regularly levied in all counties alike, so that no injustice is imposed upon those counties which regularly contribute to it.

Very respectfully submitted,

ROBERT H. BIRD, M. R. C. V. S.,
State Veterinary Surgeon.

State Board of Stock Commissioners.

Helena, Montana., December 31, 1896.

To His Excellency, Honorable J. E. Rickards, Governor, State of Montana:

Sir—In pursuance of statute and in accordance with custom, the Montana State Board of Stock Commissioners respectfully begs leave to tender you this, its eleventh annual report, which embodies a synopsis of the work of the Board during the year 1896, and includes as an appendix a report of the General Recorder of Marks and Brands, showing the brands registered during the same year.

We incorporate herein a list of the counties at present working under the Stock, Inspector and Detective Law, together with a directory of the officers and members of the Board:

Commissioner for Beaverhead County—C. H. Padley, Dillon.

Commissioner for Carbon County—J. N. Tolman, Red Lodge.

Commissioner for Cascade County—J. G. Rumney, Cascade.

Commissioner for Choteau County—C. J. McNamara, Big Sandy.

Commissioner for Custer County—O. C. Cato, Miles City.

Commissioner for Dawson County—Edward Marron, Glendive.

Commissioner for Deer Lodge County—John Bielenberg, Deer Lodge.

Commissioner for Fergus County—S. S. Hobson, Utica.

Commissioner for Jefferson County—S. S. Huntley, Toston.

Commissioner for Lewis and Clarke County—J. T. Murphy, Helena.

Commissioner for Madison County—Alex. Metzel, Puller Springs.

Commissioner for Meagher County—Len Lewis, Ft. Logan.

Commissioner for Park County—John Conrow, Livingston.

Commissioner for Silver Bow County—Geoffrey Lavelle, Butte.

Commissioner for Sweet Grass County—J. N. Kelly, Hunter's Hot Springs.

Commissioner for Teton County—W. K. Flowerree, Sun River.

Commissioner for Valley County—M. E. Milner, Ft. Benton.

Commissioner for Yellowstone County—David Fratt, Billings.

President of the Board—J. T. Murphy.

Vice-President—S. S. Huntley.

Secretary—W. G. Preuitt.

At the commencement of the year, Mr. Jesse Haston represented Custer County on the Board, but upon his decease, Mr. O. C. Cato was commissioned to succeed him. In the death of Mr. Haston, the Board of Stock Commissioners lost one of its most valuable and efficient members, and the stock interests an able advocate and representative. He was always faithful and conscientious in the performance of every duty, however slight, and his loss will be felt in every circle in which he moved. His honesty and uprightness of character and his sound business judgment made him particularly efficient in the work of the Board.

With the beginning of the year, the force of inspectors consisted of but seven men—J. H. Lander being stationed at Chicago, H. E. Bourdette at St. Paul, R. H. Rickard at South Omaha, and W. D. Smith, Harry Lund, R. P. Heren and J. W. Collins within the borders of the State of Montana. As the season advanced, and shipments started to market, it became necessary to increase the force at nearly all points. Mr. R. P. Heren was sent to Chicago, as were also Messrs. C. L. Heren, T. B. McShane, W. H. Rhoades and Robert Wilcox as inspectors, and F. E. Martin as clerk in the Chicago office. Mr. Wilcox was commissioned particularly to look after cattle represented in the North Dakota Stock Growers' Association, with which a contract was entered into, providing for inspection. Mr. J. L. Cox was commissioned to assist Mr. Bourdette at St. Paul during the busy season; Mr. B. H. Fleming was stationed at the Standing Rock and Cheyenne Indian Agencies to inspect deliveries of beef; Mr. W. E. Cathey was placed on the Elkhorn Railroad with headquarters at Belle Fourche, and Mr. D. C. Kelty on the Burlington, with headquarters at Sheridan, both for the inspection of cattle shipments and for service as detectives. Later in the season Mr. J. L. Johnston was commissioned for work in the Missouri and Smith River Valleys, and aside from the above-mentioned men, a number of parties have been commissioned without pay to look after the stock interests in their own particular locality. This force was kept up throughout the shipping season, but were then discontinued, leaving the original force only remaining.

The operations of the force of inspectors during the past year have been more satisfactory and prolific of better results than during any year previous, almost the entire regular force having been engaged in this work for a number of years thus enabling them to have become exceedingly efficient and useful in the enforcement of the laws and the capture and conviction of offenders. It has been impossible, with the funds at their disposal, for the Board to maintain inspectors in each county, but the State has been divided in the most convenient way, and the force of inspectors distributed as advantageously as possible, so as to cover the railway lines and the more exposed points, and in this manner the entire State has been well protected. These inspectors have also been enabled to render considerable assistance to the regular officers, and in this respect they are of benefit to the general public. The reports of the inspectors show that during 1896 fifty-two arrests were made in all, either by the inspectors alone or with their assistance, and of this number thirty-six were convicted and punished, one was taken to Wyoming on a requisition, three were killed while resisting arrest, and cases are still pending against three, two more broke jail while awaiting trial and have not been re-captured, while the balance were acquitted. The force of inspectors was somewhat larger than in previous years, but the results of their work were much greater proportionately.

The workings of the inspection system at the markets has been equally satisfactory, and Montana stockmen who are acquainted with the methods employed by the Board, take a pardonable pride in the efficiency of the system in operation. The chief inspectors—Messrs. Lander, Bourdette and Rickard—located respectively at Chicago, St. Paul and Omaha—have been so long engaged in the inspection of cattle that it is practically reduced to a science with them, and they are exceedingly proficient in the catching of “strays.” Owing to this fact, local inspection has been discontinued altogether, and the sole inspection is that at the markets. During the season just past, the inspectors recovered 20,275 strays for the owners, representing almost three-quarters of a million dollars in value. Of this number 4,944 were settled for through the Secretary of the Stock Growers’ Association, an aggregate amount of $163,392.10, which amount was remitted promptly to the respective owners as fast as they could be located. The strays not accounted for through the Association were paid for direct to the owners, in accordance with an arrangement by some of the larger owners, providing for this. Some difficulty is experienced in locating some owners, owing to the fact that they have neglected to record their brand, but every possible means is taken to find them, in which event they are promptly paid.

In some respects, the year 1896 was a very favorable one for the stock interests, while in others it did not hold up to the average. So far as climatic conditions were concerned, the past year was all that could be desired, with an abundance of both feed and water, and with no extremes in weather, with the exception of the unseasonable storm and cold in November. But, considering the condition of the markets, the number of cattle marketed and the aggregate revenue from the stock-growing industry, the average is considerably below that of the two preceding years, and scarcely in excess of several years prior to 1894.

The total shipments to market were 194,864 head, and the estimated number used to supply the home markets was 60,000, making the yearly output 254,864 head, which, at an average price of $33 per head, which we believe to be a fair computation, makes the revenue from this industry a trifle less than $8,500,000. This is a very noticeable falling off as compared with the eleven millions of 1895, but it is due both to the lesser number of cattle marketed, as well as to the lower prices. The decrease in the cattle output for the past year is not due, we think, to any permanent shortage in the cattle supply, but rather to the fact that owing to the favorable climatic conditions, coupled with good markets, the shipments for the past two years have been unusually heavy, many stock-owners shipping their cattle much closer than has been their custom. The past season, owing to the financial distress prevalent throughout the nation, the condition of the market was, we may say, anticipated by Montana cattlemen, and comparatively few shipped as closely as during the preceding two seasons, consequently the aggregate number of cattle in the State has not decreased, but in reality remains about normal. State Veterinarian Bird reports imports of cattle amounting to approximately 101,000 head for the year. There is no means of ascertaining the calf crop, and we would not attempt an estimate of it.

We append hereto a summary of the work of the Board accomplished through the inspection system, since its organization:

A renewal was effected concerning the 1895 arrangement with North Dakota, whereby this Board afforded them the benefit of the inspection system in return for one inspector maintained by the Dakota Stock Growers' Association at Chicago. This arrangement resulted in a saving of one salary, to the Board, and Dakota cattle received the same treatment as Montana cattle. This plan proved mutually satisfactory.

The owners of cattle ranging on the Crow Reservation also renewed the arrangement whereby they received the protection of the inspection system, and the contributions from this direction were used to defray the expense attached to an increased force.

There still remains one or two counties that fail to make the tax levy for the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund, but in nearly all of the counties the benefits accruing from this system and the work of the Board are realized and appreciated, and the County Commissioners are as willing to make the levy as the stockmen are glad to pay the tax. Cattlemen realize that without a protective organization and systematized work, such as the Board conducts, it would be impossible to carry on a legitimate stock raising business, as the entire country would of necessity be given over to the rustling element. But the rigid inspection of all stock shipped out of the State, and the maintenance of efficient inspectors within the borders of the State for the purpose of suppressing thieving, has the effect of keeping down law-breaking and enables honest stockmen to secure what belongs to them. But every "stock" county should co-operate with the Board under this law, and we hope that all will in future be found in line in the levy of this tax. If there is any dissatisfaction, it results either through ignorance of the methods of the Board, or comes from the rustling element, because it would certainly be of interest only to the rustlers to do away with this law and the system operated under it. The Montana Stock Growers' Association deserves a great deal of credit for the liberal manner in which they have supported the Board in its work, and we are free to admit that the results must have been much smaller were it not for the assistance of that organization. During the past year they contributed the sum of $6,810 toward the work of the Board, besides support other than pecuniary.

We incorporate herein a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund for the year, as shown by the books of the State Treasurer:

------------------------------------	-------------

There are some changes which it is desirable to have made in the stock laws during the coming session of the Legislature, whereby they may be made more effective. The law pertaining to the keeping of records, etc., by railroad companies, of stock killed by trains, needs some slight modifications, for, while the companies annually pay for a large number of stock killed, yet under the present law, much stock so killed is never recorded or accounted for, thus entailing a considerable loss to stockmen. During 1896 our inspectors reported 580 head of cattle and 10 head of horses killed on the railroads in Montana.

The law pertaining to cattle stealing also requires some change, for while the records show a large number of arrests and convictions, yet under the present law the penalty for cattle stealing is so slight that a conviction hardly deters rustlers from carrying on a profitable business stealing cattle, consequently the penalty should be increased by changing the law so as to make the stealing of stock constitute grand larceny.

The brand law and rules remain the same as heretofore, and during the year about 725 brands were placed on record, inclusive of new brands and transfers of old ones. Applications for brands continue to come in as numerous as ever, but the supply of brands is daily growing less, and it is becoming exceedingly difficult to record a brand.

State Veterinarian Bird reports favorable sanitary conditions among live stock, and without a severe winter, the prospect is generally good for this industry.

Respectfully submitted,

J. T. MURPHY,
President.

Secretary

... OFFICE OF THE ...

State Board of Stock Commissioners.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 31, 1897.

To His Excellency,
Honorable Robert B. Smith,
Governor State of Montana.

Sir:—As provided by statute, the Montana State Board of Stock Commissioners respectfully begs leave to tender you this, its twelfth annual report, embodying a synopsis of the work of the Board during the year 1897, with the report of the Recorder of Marks and Brands as an appendix, showing the brands and marks registered for the same year.

The last Legislature passed a bill placing every county in the State under the Stock Inspector and Detective law, and providing for the appointment of stock commissioners in each and every county. In accord with this newly enacted statute, your Excellency made appointments as follows:

Beaverhead County.....	A. F. Graeter.....	Dillon.
Broadwater County.....	F. J. Keene.....	Canton.
Carbon County.....	John N. Tolman.....	Red Lodge.
Cascade County.....	Jacob Sieben.....	Cascade.
Choteau County.....	C. J. McNamara.....	Big Sandy.
Custer County.....	O. C. Cato.....	Miles City.
*Dawson County.....	Ed. Marron.....	Glendive.
Deer Lodge County.....	John Bielenberg.....	Deer Lodge.
Fergus County.....	S. S. Hobson.....	Utica.
Flathead County.....	Lyman Loring.....	Marston.
Gallatin County.....	V. A. Cockrill.....	Bozeman.
Granite County.....	Angus McDonald.....	Philipsburg.
Jefferson County.....	Ed. Ryan.....	Boulder.
Lewis & Clarke County.	John T. Murphy.....	Helena.
Madison County.....	Alex. Metzger.....	Puller Springs.
Meagher County.....	Len Lewis.....	Lewis.
Missoula County.....	J. A. McGowan.....	Plains.
Park County.....	G. W. Wakefield.....	Livingston.
Ravalli County.....	G. W. Ward.....	Stevensville.
Silver Bow County.....	Levi Cartier.....	Butte.
Sweet Grass County.....	J. N. Kelly.....	Hunter's Hot Springs.
Teton County.....	W. K. Flowerree.....	Flowerree.
Valley County.....	M. E. Milner.....	Fort Benton.
Yellowstone County.....	David Fratt.....	Billings.

*Mr. Marron held over, as no successor was appointed.

At the organization of the Board Mr. John T. Murphy was elected its president and W. G. Preuitt its secretary.

With the commencement of the year, the force of inspectors was as follows: J. H. Lander and R. P. Heren at Chicago; H. E. Bourdette at St. Paul; R. H. Rickard at South Omaha; W. D. Smith at Miles City; Harry Lund at Fort Benton, and John W. Collins at Butte.

On June 1st, Mr. W. E. Cathey was commissioned as inspector in the Belle Fourche country, with headquarters at Spearfish, S. D.; B. H. Fleming was sent to the Standing Rock and Cheyenne Indian Agencies in North Dakota for the purpose of inspecting deliveries of beef to the Indians; James W. Drummond was located at Sheridan, Wyoming, but was later transferred to Aurora, Nebraska, for the inspection of stock sold there while en route to the feeding yards in the corn states. James L. Johnston of Meagher County was commissioned as inspector for Smith and Missouri River valleys July 15th; J. F. Bryson was placed on the inspection force August 1st, with headquarters at Merrill; George G. Taylor was appointed inspector for Beaverhead and Madison Counties August 10th, and Claude Heren, R. B. Anderson, Robert Wilcox and W. H. Rhoades were sent to the Chicago stock yards as assistants through the shipping season.

In addition to this, the regular force of inspectors, eleven men have been provided with commissions by the Board, without pay from the State, and are working especially under the supervision of minor stock associations or some of the larger cattle companies, as the funds at the disposal of the Board are inadequate to meet the necessity for a larger number of inspectors, consequently the employment of extra inspectors by the large cattle companies and associations is of material assistance to the Board in carrying on the work.

The Board is desirous of having it understood generally that commissions will be gladly issued to inspectors without pay from the Board, if the stockmen of the State will select the men and provide for their pay. The regular force of inspectors are distributed as advantageously as possible, with a view to affording protection to the most exposed points, but with our limited funds it is impossible to have an inspector in every locality or even in every county, hence the appointment of extra inspectors, selected and paid by the stockmen themselves, might make the force sufficiently large to afford adequate protection in every locality.

The force of inspectors hereinbefore mentioned was gradually reduced as the season advanced, both because of scarcity of funds and because their services were not longer required where they were located. In this manner, the services of Messrs. Wilcox, Anderson and Rhoades were discontinued at Chicago December 1st, while C. L. Heren was transferred to Sioux City early in the season for the inspection of cattle sold at that market. He, too, however, was released from the force December 1st. Mr. Bryson's services were discontinued October 31st; Mr. W. E. Cathey at the same time; Messrs. Fleming and Johnston, November 30th, and Mr. Drummond's term of service expires with this month, consequently the force is reduced to the regular number, with the addition of Mr. Taylor, a total of eight men, four of whom are at the markets and four doing local inspection work.

The operations of the force of inspectors have been more successful than at any time in the previous history of the Board. The regular force of inspectors has been engaged in this work for a number of years, some of them since the organization of the Board, and few officers anywhere exceed them in efficiency. While they are employed particularly for the enforcement of the laws pertaining to the live stock industry, yet they render a not inconsiderable amount of assistance to the regular officers in the enforcement of the general criminal laws. The reports of the inspectors show that during the year eighty-one arrests were effected for violation of the stock laws, and of this number forty-two cases resulted in conviction and ten cases are still pending in the courts. In addition to this, two of the most notorious cattle rustlers resisted arrest and were killed by the inspectors. Occurrences of this kind must of course be regretted, and yet it occasionally happens that some of the dangerous characters that infest the cattle country compel an inspector to shoot while engaged in performing his duty under the law, because they resist arrest.

Some of the arrests and convictions before mentioned were of exceedingly great importance to the stock interests. One case was that of six soldiers caught by one of the inspectors in the act of killing a beef belonging to a stockman in the vicinity of the post to which they belonged. He arrested them single handed. They received their trial by court martial, were found guilty and punished by imprisonment, fine and dishonorable discharge from the army. Afterwards they received remittance of the latter sentence, as the lesson was probably a most effectual one. Two other cases of especial importance—in Jefferson and Lewis and Clarke counties—which had been peculiarly aggravating to the stockmen, resulted in conviction with long sentences in the penitentiary. In addition to this, the party who defrauded the State so greatly under the state bounty law on wolves and coyotes was captured and convicted in Beaverhead County and is now serving his sentence at Deer Lodge. The capture of the Belle Fourche bank robbers was likewise effected through our inspectors, after an exciting chase and fight in which the robbers' horses were killed. Taken altogether, the result of the year's work has been unusually gratifying.

In addition to their other duties, the inspectors are doing a good work under the law pertaining to the destruction of live stock on the railroads. The law requires the railroads to keep a record of cattle killed or maimed, together with the hides, and the inspectors make regular examination of these hides, filing report of the marks and brands with the secretary of the Board, who in turn notifies the owner of the killing of his stock, and settlement can be made with the railroad company. A schedule of prices for stock of this kind has been agreed upon by the railroad company and stockmen in one instance, and as settlement is usually made promptly, its workings are very satisfactory to all concerned. During the past year a total of fourteen hundred and fifty-nine head of stock were killed on the railroads of the State, as reported by the inspectors.

The inspection sytem as conducted at the great markets works very satisfactorily, and affords a protection to the stock interests that few stockmen realize and appreciate. Before this sytem was established, it was possible for cattle to be gathered and shipped from the State without any inspection whatsoever, and every experienced stockman knows how easily mistakes are honestly made in the cutting of cattle and reading of brands on the range, but the opportunity it afforded for dishonest persons to make away with the stock of neighbors and adjacent ranges compelled the legitimate stockmen to organize for mutual protection, and the present sytem is the outcome of that early organization. At this time, all cattle shipped to market are compelled to undergo a most thorough inspection. All cattle, known as "strays," that is, cattle that do not belong to the shipper, or which are not subject to his control, being reported to the secretary of the Montana Stock Growers' Association, who keeps a complete and intelligible record for public inspection. In the event that the shipper has "strays" in his shipment for which no instructions have been filed for disposition of proceeds, this money also, is sent to the Association, and through the record of brands, owners are located and the funds forwarded to the respective owners. In this manner the small and great cattle man receive equal protection in a most effectual way, which, as before mentioned, few of them realize or appreciate. Occasionally complaint is made by some stock man, usually one who is conducting business on a small scale, that he receives no benefit from the inspection system because he does not often receive a visit from a local inspector, or because an inspector is not stationed in his immediate vicinity, but he forgets the market inspection, which affords protection to all alike. It is an absolute necessity that there should be sufficient force to maintain a rigid and accurate inspection at the markets, and with a limited amount of money at its command, the Board cannot do this and at the same time keep as many local inspectors in the field as could be wished. For this reason the custom which is now becoming more general—of roundup associations organizing for the purpose of employing men for special local work in a particular locality—is meeting with favor and is certain to result most satisfactorily, provided care is taken in the selection of men for this work.

During the season of 1897, the number of cattle marketed falls somewhat short of the previous year's record, perhaps because of the fact that in some portions of the State feed was short and stock were not in beef condition, hence were unfit for market; but the total output for the State for the season falls only 2,000 head short of last year, the poorer grade of cattle being picked up by corn feeders from the Mississippi valley and shipped direct to the feed yards without going to the markets. Owing to the demand for feeders, the market at Omaha was an important factor the past year, and the number of cattle marketed there was a large increase over any previous year.

Sioux City likewise came in for a limited number of shipments, and with the customary number marketed at St. Paul, the total of the Chicago market from Montana was short of previous years. Taken as a whole, it was an unusually favorable season for the live stock industry; prices ruled higher than usual throughout the season, the large crop of grain in the central states creating a demand for cattle for feeding purposes, and it was this demand that kept the market up, hence the average is higher than most previous years, with the exception of the total number of cattle marketed. Climatic conditions were favorable also, except in certain localities, the extremely heavy rains in the late spring and early summer making abundant food.

During the season of 1897 the inspectors' reports show a total of 192,162 head of cattle marketed from Montana, and, estimating home consumption at the usual figure of 60,000 head, the total output for the year was 252,162. The average price was, as before stated, somewhat above that of previous years, and we believe $37 is an accurate estimate. It will, therefore, be observed that the total revenue from the cattle industry was nearly nine and one-half millions of dollars. The inspectors at all the inspection points recovered 19,104 head of stray cattle from Montana shipments, of a value of three-quarters of a million dollars. Of this number 6,125 were paid for to owners through the Montana Stock Growers' Association, the total net proceeds of same aggregating $225,372.49. This sum has been disbursed to the respective owners residing in every section of the State, and a small portion has gone to almost every State in the union—to people who are non-residents, but who own cattle interests in Montana. Owners are located as rapidly as possible, and where brands are recorded no difficulty is experienced, but quite a number of stockmen use unrecorded brands, and we have no means of locating them except by inquiry or through hearing directly from them.

Owing to the high prices prevailing, cattle were shipped closer than usual, and as the aggregate number falls short of previous years, there is unquestionably a shortage in cattle at the present time in the range States. The demand for feeders has had the effect of drawing on the west and south for all available cattle of all classes, consequently there is no means of replenishing the herds except by breeding. To this end breeding stock is being put in to a greater extent than for some years past and the shortage will eventually be overcome.

It is difficult to give an accurate statement of the number of cattle brought into Montana during the year, but we do not think it will equal that of last year, possibly by twenty-five per cent, and we therefore estimate the total number of cattle brought into the State at about 75,000 head. The calf crop cannot be estimated, but owing to absence of breeding stock, losses by winters and wolves, the calf crop has been steadily decreasing. The cattle business is gradually developing into a cattle ranching industry rather than a range cattle business, and this of course means smaller losses, more careful breeding and a consequent increase in the number of cattle. This will doubtless tend to create an improvement in the class of stock, through the introduction of better breeding stock.

We append hereto a statement of the inspection work of the Board since its organization:

A renewal was effected of the arrangement with North Dakota, whereby the North Dakota Stock Growers' Association placed an inspector at the Chicago yards, subject to the direction of the Montana Board, in exchange for which the inspection of North Dakota cattle was looked after by Montana's inspectors at not only Chicago, but all of the other markets where we maintain an inspection, as well as the benefit of the inspection at the Indian agencies. This enabled Montana to save the salary of one man for the shipping season, and gave the Dakota people an inspection with which they express themselves highly satisfied.

The owners of cattle ranging outside of the State, but which require inspection the same as those within the borders of Montana, have contributed somewhat toward the maintenance of the inspection system, and have received the protection that is accorded to Montana stockmen. These cattle escape taxation under the laws of Montana, but receive the same benefits accorded cattle ranging within the State, hence it is only just that the owners should contribute toward the support of this work. Owing to the decision of the courts concerning stock on the Indian reservations, the usual contributions from this direction have been cut off, but nevertheless it comes in the regular tax collections.

The Montana Stock Growers' Association has been of vast assistance to the Board in many ways. Its individual members have been ready at all times to co-operate with us in our work, and the Association as a whole has rendered invaluable financial assistance. Its contributions toward the work of the Board during 1897 amounted to $7,516.94, and without this our work would have been greatly curtailed. The North Montana Roundup Association has been generous in its sympathy and assistance also. It has been steadily employing inspectors commissioned by the Board and paying for them from its own funds, and in this manner has done much toward furthering the work of the Board. The officers of both these Associations have at all times co-operated with us in every possible manner.

With the entire State now working under the Stock Inspector and Detective Law, we believe the possibilities much greater for the carrying on of this protective work than ever before. The Board has been working to attain this end for a number of years and it is due to this more than to any other one thing that the work of the Board has been so hampered. With the assistance of the honest stockmen of the entire State, we shall attempt to broaden and extend the work until cattle rustling shall be entirely suppressed and the losses of stockmen shall be limited to climatic conditions alone.

The law pertaining to the butchering of cattle is an important one, and it is the purpose of the Board to so enforce it that illegitimate butchering establishments must either cease their illegal practices or go out of business. The law provides for the filing of monthly statements with the nearest justice of the peace, and with the county clerk, together with the retention of all hides for a period of ten days after slaughter. Most of the reputable butchers are cognizant of this law and comply with its provisions, but it is the purpose of the Board to have its inspectors compel every person in the State who butchers cattle to comply strictly with this statute. Butchers who conduct a legitimate business should co-operate with us in the enforcement of this law, as the stock interests must be protected from illegal butchering establishments.

The bounty law appears to be working effectively, and range reports indicate that there is a very considerable decrease in the number of wolves over what it was prior to the enactment of this law. Owing to the efforts that have been made to defraud the State under this law, the officers should be extremely vigilant in order to prevent the issuance of bounty certificates on animals killed outside the State borders.

The increase in the number of arrests and convictions for violation of the stock laws shows the wisdom of the change made by the last Legislature, making cattle stealing constitute grand larceny. This provides a penalty sufficient to deter the less bold rustlers from the stealing of live stock, while the penalty imposed on those who are convicted is in proportion to the offense. This will assist greatly in the suppression of this sort of crime in Montana, for a just law is more than half the battle.

For the past two or three years the service conducted by the Weather Bureau of the United States Government has been attracting the notice of Montana stockmen at the points in the State where the Weather Bureau service has been maintained, and many are coming to a realization of the fact that this service might be so utilized as to be of immense practical value to our stockmen. Frequently a few hours' warning of a blizzard would enable stockmen, especially those who hold their stock at their ranches or in fields, to make preparations for the coming of the storm so as to avoid any loss whatsoever, and with this idea in view Prof. Willis L. Moore, Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, has extended the storm warning service to Montana, whereas heretofore Montana has not been included in this service. Inasmuch as many of our stockmen are now wintering their stock, notice of severe storms is likely to prove most advantageous, and if the stockmen themselves will take a proper interest in this matter, these warnings can be widely disseminated and practically every community receive prior notice of blizzards. Arrangements have been made whereby the "norther warnings," as they are termed, are telegraphed to about a dozen different places in the State, whenever high wind, accompanied by snow or freezing temperature, is expected. The various telegraph and telephone companies have expressed their willingness to send notices of storms to all points on their lines, provided the stockmen along the lines will arrange to receive these reports and arrange for making the warnings known. Mr. J. Warren Smith, Observer of the Weather Bureau at Helena, is willing and anxious to arrange with the stockmen to receive these warnings, and by a little individual effort on the part of our stockmen these may be utilized and the stock interests receive the benefit.

There has been no alteration in the rules governing the recording of brands, and as may be seen in the appendix hereto, about one thousand brands have been placed upon the records since 1897. This makes in the neighborhood of 13,000 brands now recorded for the State of Montana. Each year it is becoming more and more difficult to procure a suitable brand, as the increasing demand for them creates a scarcity. There is a considerable number of brands on the record which are not in use and which might be obtained if the individual stockmen in each community would make an effort to procure title to them. This would provide brands to meet the demand and obviate the necessity of inventing something for use as a brand, which is not now in use.

The annual report of State Veterinarian Knowles has been filed with us, and we are glad to note that he considers the sanitary conditions of the State more favorable than usual. Dr. Knowles has been diligent in the discharge of his duty as Veterinary Surgeon and we are pleased to know that the efforts he puts forth result so successfully in preventing the breaking out or spread of any disease among our live stock. Your Excellency's proclamation against the importation of breeding stock without a certificate showing them free from tuberculosis was a move in the right direction, and will prevent the bringing of that disease into the State; it is so prevalent in the eastern herds that without quarantine regulations it might easily gain a foothold here, notwithstanding that owing to our rigorous climate there is not much likelihood of any disease among cattle in Montana.

Because of the condition of the horse market during the past few years, horse raising in Montana has fallen into neglect. For this reason, doubtless, there has been some disease among horses in various localities, but Dr. Knowles reports nothing particularly serious. Altogether we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the sanitary condition of Montana live stock.

We incorporate herein a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund, showing receipts by counties and total disbursements for the year; the disbursements we have not itemized because of the fact that the itemized statement is published in the report of the State Auditor.

OFFICE OF THE

State Board of Stock Commissioners

Helena, Montana, Dec. 21, 1898.

To His Excellency,
HONORABLE ROBERT B. SMITH,
Governor, State of Montana.

Sir:—In accordance with statutory provisions on the subject, the Montana State Board of Stock Commissioners respectfully begs leave to tender you this, its thirteenth annual report, containing a synopsis of the work of the Board during the year 1898, together with the report of the General Recorder of Marks and Brands as an appendix thereto.

With the commencement of the year, the Board was constituted as follows:

Beaverhead County	A. F. Graeter—Dillon.
Broadwater County	F. J. Keene—Canton.
Carbon County	J. N. Tolman—Red Lodge.
Cascade County	Jacob Sieben—Cascade.
Choteau County	C. J. McNamara—Big Sandy.
Custer County	O. C. Cato—Miles City.
Dawson County	Ed. Marron—Glendive.
Deer Lodge County	John Bielenberg—Deer Lodge.
Fergus County	S. S. Hobson—Utica.
Flathead County	Lyman Loring—Kalispell.
Gallatin County	V. A. Cockrill—Bozeman.
Granite County	A. A. McDonald—Philipsburg.
Jefferson County	Ed. Ryan—Boulder.
Lewis and Clarke County	J. T. Murphy—Helena.
Madison County	Alex. Metzel—Puller Springs.
Meagher County	Len Lewis—Lewis.
Missoula County	J. A. McGowan—Plains.
Park County	G. W. Wakefield—Livingston.
Ravalli County	G. W. Ward—Hamilton.
Silver Bow County	Levi Cartier—Butte.
Sweet Grass County	J. N. Kelly—Springdale.
Teton County	W. K. Flowerree—Lowry.
Valley County	M. E. Milner—Fort Benton.
Yellowstone County	D. Fratt—Billings.

There were but two changes in the personnel of the Board during the year occasioned by the death of Mr. Marron, of Dawson County, and Mr. Loring, of Flathead County. Mr. Marron was succeeded by Mr. Charles Krug, of Glendive, and Mr. Loring's successor was Mr. J. A. Ford, of Kalispell. The organization of the Board remained the same, with Mr. Murphy as President and Mr. Preuitt as Secretary.

With the opening of the year, the inspection force was as follows: J. H. Lander and R. P. Heren, at Chicago; H. E. Bourdette, at St. Paul; R. H. Rickard, South Omaha; W. D. Smith, Miles City; Harry Lund, Fort Benton; John W. Collins, Butte, and George G. Taylor, at Dillon. Mr. Taylor left the service early in the year and A. C. Hammond was appointed his successor. Chas. Kanouse received the appointment as inspector for Broadwater and Meagher Counties for a term of three months, when he was released, as the appointment was only a temporary one. At the beginning of the shipping season, Messrs. R. B. Anderson and W. H. Rhoades were sent to Chicago to assist the regular inspectors there in the inspection of cattle marketed, and J. W. Drummond was placed at the Sioux City market for a like purpose. Albert Nuttall, of Park County, and Manford Engles, of Carbon County, likewise J. S. Wheat, of Sweet Grass County, were all given temporary appointments for local inspection work in their respective localities; and in November, E. Serruys, of Dawson County, was appointed as local inspector and detective for the winter season in that vicinity. Aside from these appointments, seventeen commissions are held in different parts of the State by stockmen, their salaries being paid by the minor associations or roundups, or by individual stockmen. This custom is becoming quite general, and the Board is always willing to issue a commission to any reputable stockman, provided his pay is provided for by the stock interests in his neighborhood, and in this manner, any locality can have its inspector and receive as direct protection and benefit as may be desired. As the shipping season closed, and the opportunities for efficient local work diminished, the force was cut down as rapidly as possible, and now remains the same as at the beginning of the year, with the exception that Mr. Hammond fills the position formerly occupied by Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Serruys has been added to the force, making a total of nine inspectors.

With the limited amount of revenue at its disposal, the Board cannot maintain inspectors in every locality, and it is for this reason that every encouragement is given the stockmen toward appointing inspectors 'without pay,' as this renders very material assistance to the Board in carrying on this work.

The inspectors have been very successful in their operations during the year just closed, as the table of statistics hereinafter incorporated will demonstrate. A total of seventy-two arrests were made during the year by our inspectors, nearly all of which were for direct violation of the stock laws. Of this number, there were thirty-five convictions secured, with five cases still pending, a very creditable record. The inspectors do not confine their attention merely to the stock laws, but, wherever possible, they render aid to the regular officers in the enforcement of the general criminal laws. Our present regular force has become extremely efficient, most of them having been engaged in this work under the supervision of the Board for a number of years past.

Among the duties of inspectors, is the examination of the hides of cattle killed on the railroads within the State, and the reports for the past year show a total of 750 hides so inspected and reported to us, notice of such inspection being given the respective owners, that they may be enabled to file claim for the value of their stock. A schedule has been arranged, to the mutual satisfaction of stockmen and the railroad companies, whereby settlement is effected promptly at a fair valuation, and in this manner, upwards of $25,000 was paid to the stockmen by the railroad companies during the year, for stock so killed. However, the number of stock killed in this way is fast decreasing, as the companies are fencing their right of way at the more exposed points, and stock are kept from the track.

The branch of the inspection system which shows the greatest results, and which is of greatest importance to the stock interests—the minor interests particularly—is the inspection of cattle at the markets. Our inspectors at these points are as efficient as can be found, and when the fact is considered that the great bulk of shipments are crowded into about three months of the year, and the immense amount of business transacted on account of these shipments, it must be admitted that the inspectors' work is highly satisfactory. The purpose of the system is that every animal shall receive inspection, consequently the work must be most thorough, and as every facility is afforded for the careful and expert examination of brands, errors are infrequent and complaints correspondingly few. This inspection absolutely prevents the stealing of cattle for shipment from the State, and the smallest owner receives equal protection with the largest range owner, although this fact is not generally appreciated, particularly by the smaller owners. Proceeds of all unknown strays are sent to the Montana Stock Growers' Association, where, by means of the record of marks and brands, the owners are located and proceeds remitted to them; in case brands are on record no difficulty is experienced in this direction, but it is not always easy to locate owners of stock bearing unrecorded brands; however, stockmen generally are recognizing the necessity of using brands that are recorded, and this trouble is fast being overcome.

The past year has been an unusual one for the stock interests in many respects, particularly as to the sharp advance in the prices of stock cattle. This was probably occasioned by the scramble in the early spring by eastern feeders, for this class of stock, because the average advance in the beef market did not exceed five per cent over 1897, while the advance in stock cattle was fully forty per cent. Because of unusually of unusually high prices prevailing for young stock, a smaller number of cattle were brought into Montana than during any previous year in the history of the stock industry; the total number will probably not exceed 15,000—a falling off of more than seventy-five per cent over 1897. However, among the stock brought into the State, was noticeable an unusual amount of fine breeding stock, and the general quality of Montana stock is vastly improved. There is a disposition on the part of stockmen, both large and small owners, to secure the best breeding stock possible, and there is every indication that the grade of Montana stock will gradually improve. Dr. Knowles reports some fifteen hundred high grade bulls brought into the State, the health certificates for which were brought to his attention. Aside from this, all of our local breeders of fine stock have experienced no difficulty in disposing of all of their high class stock at good figures, and the demand is not yet satisfied.

From a climatic point of view, 1898 has been as favorable a year for the stock interests as has ever been experienced in Montana. The unusual amount of moisture in the spring and early summer assured an abundance of feed, and there is a hay crop on hand throughout the State unequaled in any previous year. Stock have gone into the winter in fine condition, and the outlook is most flattering.

Shipments of cattle fell somewhat short of previous years, although the output was swelled to a much larger figure than would have otherwise been, by the cleaning up of several large range herds; as it was, the shortage was nearly ten per cent, in comparison with 1897, and still greater as compared with the years prior to 1897. However, the shortage next year will be more apparent, so far as shipments are concerned, but as the decrease is almost altogether in the range herds, while the ranch cattle are increasing in number, the total number in the State is no less than heretofore. During the season of 1898, the inspectors report 172,225 head of cattle marketed from Montana, and with the usual estimate of 60,000 head for home consumption, the total output was 232,225 head. Our most accurate estimate places the average price for the year on beef at $39, an advance of about five per cent over 1897, or any previous year. This higher average was occasioned, not alone by a little higher price as an average for the year, but also from the fact that an unusual amount of breeding stock was retained, and the proportion of steer cattle in shipments was necessarily greater, thus raising the average slightly as to weight and quality. In addition, the market was unusually steady, being marked by fewer extremes than in former years. At the various inspection points, 16,058 head of strays were recovered by our inspectors, aggregating $626,000 in value. Of this number, 5,710 head were paid to owners through the Montana Stock Growers' Association, the total net proceeds being $227,943.90, the greatest volume of business in the history of the Board or Association.

We append hereto a statement of the inspection work of the Board since its organization:

A contract that has been in effect between the North Dakota Association and our Board, whereby we gave them the benefit of our market inspection, was continued this past year, and they paid us the sum of $900, which enabled us to employ an extra inspector for the shipping season.

The action of Custer County, in compelling the Crow Reservation stockmen to pay taxes on Reservation stock to Custer County, has done away with our assessment on such stock, and these contributions now come in the regular channel, and are included in the Custer County revenue. We, however, still make some few collections from stockmen whose stock ranges outside the State, but who desire to share the benefits of our inspection.

The Montana Stock Growers' Association has been a constant source of aid to this Board, both morally and financially, its contributions during the year amounting to $12,619.97, which has been the means of enabling us to extend and broaden our work very materially, affording proportionate benefit to the stock interests of the State. The North Montana Association has likewise rendered appreciable assistance, and its individual members lose no opportunity of aiding us. This Association employs a number of inspectors from its own funds, while the Board issues the necessary commissions and the inspection work is considerably furthered by this action.

The table of arrests and convictions is an indication of the activity of our inspectors, locally, and of the wisdom of our present laws pertaining to the larceny of live stock. Illegal butchering is closely looked after, and most of the legitimate butchering establishments are now complying with the law requiring them to keep a record of brands on cattle slaughtered.

There is but one law with which the stock interests are closely identified upon which we desire to offer special comment or suggestions—we refer to the law providing for the payment of bounty on wolves and coyotes. Since this law was first enacted, a vast number of the animals have been destroyed, and claims for bounty filed against the State. It was the general opinion among stockmen, during the first three years of the operation of this law, that there was a notable decrease in the number of these animals, as it seemed impossible that so many should be killed without affecting the total number. However, from statistics gathered from the various counties, it is evident that wolves at least are on the increase, and that the damage occasioned by them is as great as at any time in the past. This seems to be caused by two conditions; the bounty fund is insufficient to provide for the prompt payment of claims, and the hunter's greatest incentive—a cash bounty, is taken away, and there are few who are willing to engage in the business; and secondly, the bounty on wolves is too small, owing to the difficulty of killing them. We have taken the pains to investigate this question thoroughly, to ascertain what the general opinion is as to a remedy; to this end we have interviewed stockmen from all sections of the State, and have had an expression from one convention of stockmen—a representative gathering—and there appears to be an almost unanimous opinion as to the remedy for the difficulty. The universal idea among stockmen is that a fund should be created which shall be sufficiently large to meet all bounty claims as fast as filed, so the bounty will be worth face value in cash anywhere in the State. In order to effect this, there are two remedies, either or both of which will be satisfactory to the live stock interests. The first is the absolute repeal of the bounty on coyotes, or, at the very least, a reduction to a minimum amount. We advocate this idea, because our stockmen are practically unanimous in the opinion that the wolf, and not the coyote, occasions the damage to live stock, and that the coyote is responsible for very little, if any, loss in this direction. Then, an examination of the claims filed against the bounty fund will show that fully seventy-five per cent of all claims filed are for coyotes, and that there is a steady increase in the percentage. Under these circumstances, it seems folly to continue the expenditure of so large an amount of money for the extermination of an animal that is almost harmless to stock, and we feel that the stockmen are justified in their demand for an entire abrogation of the coyote bounty, or at least a radical reduction in the amount. This feature alone would go far toward providing a large enough fund to create a cash bounty, as, even with a continuance of the slaughter of the coyotes, the expenditures would be proportionately smaller.

As a secondary measure, we should recommend an increase in the wolf bounty to at least five dollars; with a cash bounty of this amount, there would be renewed activity among hunters, and the pests would be exterminated. Five dollars will pay a fair return to hunters, who cannot make wages on a three dollar wolf bounty, owing to the difficulty of catching or killing the animals. With these alterations in the law, if it is deemed that the fund will still be too small, the stockmen are willing to be taxed an additional one or two mills for the purpose of creating a sufficiently large fund, and with the coyote bounty repealed, we believe a solution of the problem would be had. One of the most satisfactory bounty laws in operation is that enacted by our Canadian neighbors, where the bounty on female wolves is ten dollars, on dog wolves at five dollars, and on pups at three dollars, with none whatsoever on coyotes.

We furthermore believe that there should be additional safeguards placed about county officials to prevent the perpetration of fraud upon them, either through the patching of skins, or by shipping or bringing them in from other States. There is unlikely to be fraud practiced with wolf hides, owing to the fact that wherever these animals exist, there is a liberal bounty placed on them; but as the bounty on coyotes is very small, if any, wherever bounties are paid, there is danger of fraud being attempted by bringing in skins from the outside. An examination of the record of the three northern counties of Montana, leads to the suspicion that many coyote skins are brought in from Canada for the purpose of obtaining the bounty; this suspicion seems justified by the fact that there is no bounty whatsoever on coyotes in Canada, and that the proportion of coyotes to wolves in the three counties mentioned will average from eight to twelve coyotes to one wolf, while the proportion in other counties is not to exceed two or three to one wolf. There is little doubt that we are annually expending a large amount of money in the perpetuation of a fraud, from which there is little if any benefit derived by the stock interests. We therefore beg to recommend to the consideration of the Legislature, the utter abolition of the bounty on coyotes and an increase in the wolf bounty to at least five dollars; and we would further recommend that if it should become necessary to provide an increase in the bounty fund in order to cover such recommendations, and provide for prompt payment of claims, that an additional levy of one mill be placed on the live stock interests for this fund; and furthermore, that some precautionary measure be devised and inserted in the statute requiring county officials to use greater caution in the examination of skins and in ascertaining when and where the animals were killed, and in the affidavits of claimants and their witnesses in obtaining this bounty, and that a stringent penalty be provided for any violation of the law. We believe the stock industry would thus secure the relief it requires.

We desire to acknowledge our appreciation of the services rendered by the United States Weather Bureau in making public its storm warnings; these have been pretty generally distributed throughout the State, and this, together with the telegraphic reports from the various other stations throughout the State, afford stockmen a great deal of satisfaction.

The brand rules remain the same as heretofore, and during the year upwards of a thousand brands have been placed upon the records. However, desirable brands are very scarce, and it is becoming more and more difficult each year to record brands for all those who make application for them. There are many obsolete brands on the records, which could doubtless be procured with a little effort on the part of individuals desiring brands; many stockmen have retired from business and have therefore ceased using their brands, and if persons wishing brands would hunt up parties of this kind, very desirable brands could be acquired through purchase, at reasonable figures. As it is, we are about at the stage where we cannot supply applicants with brands, and some effort will have to be made in that direction. Various plans have been proposed for cancelling unused brands, but there has as yet been no method devised which would stand the constitutional test. Our rules governing the recording of brands are of necessity quite strict, and every attempt is made to avoid recording brands that bear close similarity. The demand for brands continues unabated, however, and with twelve to fifteen thousand brands already on the records, it is becoming quite a problem to devise brands that do not conflict with those already recorded.

The report of State Veterinarian Knowles is appended hereto, from which it will be observed that the sanitary condition of live stock is satisfactory. The perusal of his report is recommended to those who desire particular information regarding live stock diseases, blackleg or glanders in particular. Owing to the fact that this document is published as a part of this report, we refrain from especial comment, further than to call attention to the report itself.

We append hereto a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund. This statement is furnished by the State Treasurer, but as the disbursements appear in the State Auditor's report in itemized form, we do not exhibit them here.

REPORT OF
State Veterinary Surgeon
FOR 1898.

Report of the State Veterinary Surgeon.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 1, 1898.

To the Honorable Live Stock Commission for the State of Montana:

Gentlemen:—The past year has been a very active one in my department, requiring all my own time, and at periods the time of several deputies, and even then a few calls had to be refused, on account of lack of funds in my expense account. The work of the office is increasing rapidly from present requirements of our stock interests, and the fact that advancing science makes more infectious diseases possible to prevent. The good possible for this office to do, in behalf of our stock interests, is seriously hampered by the limited appropriation for expenses, and it is to be hoped that your honorable body may see its way clear to ask the incoming Legislature to amend the act creating this office, to read instead of "limiting the expense fund to $850," "actual expenses." To make the work of the office efficient, I have, during the past two years, expended over a thousand dollars of private funds, which was necessary to carry out the line of work demanded; otherwise, a majority of the work must have remained undone.

BLACK LEG among cattle has been prevalent during the past year, over a large area of our State, in many instances losses reaching 40 per cent, with an easy average loss in the localities to which it was confined of over 10 per cent. This loss, at the present price of cattle, is appalling, and when it is taken into consideration that the disease is certainly and easily prevented, it compels one to the opinion that much of this loss is justly blamed to the owners, who fail to vaccinate. Up to the time of my coming into office, I can find no evidence to show that a single stockman of Montana was cognizant of a vaccine against black leg, and since that time I have lost no opportunity to call our cattle owners' attention to the benefits of vaccination, and have spent many days in correspondence relative thereto, and in personally visiting and instructing our cattle owners in the art of vaccination. The result of this work is now apparent to a large number of our cattlemen, and is gratifying in the extreme to me, as a total of over 22,000 calves have been inoculated in Montana during the past year, which, at a minimum loss of 10 per cent, is a clean saving of over $40,000 from this one disease alone; but it is only fair to suppose that a loss of at least twice that amount would have occurred, had vaccination not been practiced. A feature of vaccination of still more value, is the fact that this is not confined to the one year, but will be a permanent source of saving from year to year, until black leg, so far as our State is concerned, will be a disease of the past, with an average saving, to Montana stockmen alone, of over $100,000. From data at hand, there is every reason to believe that many more will be vaccinated next year than this, until within a year or two every stockman in Montana will be acquainted with its benefits.

In spite of as close an inspection as could be maintained under existing difficulties, that dread disease to the swine owner—hog cholera—made its appearance in Gallatin, Lewis and Clarke, Granite and Silver Bow Counties, introduced in each instance from hogs imported from the infected districts of Minnesota and Dakota. No greater calamity could befall the hog owner than the introduction of this disease, and this could not have occurred had our national law been observed, or it were possible to practice as rigid inspection in our State as the case demands. The losses to our swine growing interests, coming under my immediate observation during the year, will aggregate over $20,000. This is enormous, considering the limited swine industry in Montana. If our swine interests are protected from this disease, as they should be, two things are requisite.

First, a rigid inspection of all swine entering the State, providing for at least fifteen days' quarantine after arrival therein.

Second, all swine must be inoculated, or vaccinated, with hog cholera vaccine, in the localities now infected.

This practice is now being successfully carried on by our United States Department of Agriculture, and while the supply of vaccine, so far, is limited, it is hoped that we may secure enough for our limited needs in Montana, within a few months.

SCAB among sheep has existed during the past year, to a considerable extent, in several localities of our State; but, thanks to the assiduous efforts of efficient Deputy Inspectors, is now under complete control, and, I believe, thoroughly stamped out.

GLANDERS among horses is one of the serious problems that has been, and is now, confronting this department, and must have untiring attention, before our extensive horse interests suffer greater losses. The losses from this disease are not the greatest from the direct loss of the animal, but in the market to which horses from a certain section get the reputation of being likely to convey this disease, and, indeed, to bring it with them and develop it after purchase. In certain localities of our State, reputable and conservative horsemen have placed the number of infected horses in certain counties at 5 per cent of the horse population of the county; certainly an alarming percentage, that should demand most serious consideration from all interested. When it is considered that the opportunities for infection in certain localities of our State are so favorable, there is but little surprise at the correctness of the statement, or the large percentage infected.

Among roundup outfits, it is the custom to use the same saddle and bridle for the horses ridden by one man, and, not infrequently, these are interchanged, and one man being allowed to ride from two to twelve head of horses, it is quite easy to see how little difficulty there is in spreading the infection of this disease. Oftentimes, there are several outfits together, in addition to which are the representatives for distant brands, all of these proving factors in the dissemination of the infection. A serious feature of the glanders question is the skepticism among many owners, of the existence of glanders at all, and, in some instances, they cannot be blamed. In Gallatin County, where I regret to say, much glanders exists, a number of horses were condemned during the years past, placed in quarantine, examined a few weeks afterwards, released as not affected with glanders; again seen, again condemned, and yet again visited, and yet again released, as free from the disease, this procedure naturally making owners suspicious and doubtful of the existence of the disease, and correspondingly difficult to convince of the fact that their horses have glanders. In one instance, a horse owned by Mr. John Milton, aged seven years, formerly owned by his brother-in-law, was condemned at three years old for glanders, released after a few months; again condemned, again released; when I saw him during October, condemned him for glanders, the owner and a number of his friends (among them one veterinarian) insisting that the horse was healthy, left me but one method of doing my duty to the satisfaction of all concerned—without the intervention of the law—and that was, offering to pay for the animal, personally, if he failed to show all the evidence of glanders on autopsy. Mr. Milton agreed to this. The horse was appraised at $80 by Mr. W. A. Stotesbury, Dr. Wilcox and Mr. Milton's brother. We then destroyed the animal (Dr. Wilcox and Dr. Baker agreeing beforehand that the animal was infected), when all evidence of a long-standing chronic case of glanders was plainly disclosed. Mr. Milton, on viewing the lungs, waived payment, on his own satisfaction, remarking that no man could be asked to pay for an animal with lungs of that sort. I recite the above particulars, one of a number of similar cases, to show the extreme difficulty in convincing many of our citizens of the existence of glanders, the fact of the disease manifesting so little outward show of its presence in many instances, and the necessity for very close surveillance, especially relative to this disease. This horse had evidently been affected with glanders for at least four years, from the owner's own testimony, and I have met a number of cases, beyond question, of not less than six to eight years' standing. Glanders shows less outward manifestation in this State, than in any locality with which I am familiar. In fact, in a majority of cases, but little discharge will be discovered from the nose, slight swelling of the glands under the jaw, and often, where the lungs are seriously affected, the slightest possible cough. In nearly every instance where an animal is fairly well cared for, he will remain fat, sleek and in good condition. This being true, is it strange that it is difficult to convince an owner of the existence of such a serious and dangerous disease? The very name "glanders," with the layman, implies a dangerously malignant disease, and accompanying such a disease, he naturally expects to find a sorely diseased animal, that the merest tyro could detect that something serious was at work. If he knows anything of the disease at all, he expects to find a dejected animal with a staring coat, profuse discharge from the nose, with visible ulcers on the mucuous membrane, horrible sores on the body and legs, in fact, a general condition indicative of rapid dissolution, and when he is confronted with an animal, to all outward appearances in perfect health, it is this fact that makes it more difficult to convince him of the seriousness of the case. In this masked shape, it can be readily seen, the disease is a thousand times more difficult to deal with, and it perhaps would be much better for the commonwealth, and the individual in general, if the disease were so apparent that the layman could always detect it. When, however, these latent and obscure cases are taken from this high altitude and healthful surroundings, to a lower altitude and vitiated atmosphere of a city, they rapidly break down and are soon condemned; the horse's history hunted up and Montana, therefore, gets another nail in the coffin of her horse market. The Dakota veterinarians state that not a few of our horses sold there develop glanders, and dealers tell me this fact has already seriously injured our horse market in that State alone. I personally know that out of one consignment of 108 horses sent to Dakota, 16 developed well-marked cases of glanders in ten or twelve days after arrival at their destination. The above facts are mentioned to emphasize the importance of this disease and the necessity for its control, if we are to protect ourselves and preserve our market. Here, again, is the importance of having educated veterinarians to issue health certificates for our export animals. In fact, one of the reasons why other States refuse to accept our health certificates, is the known fact that the majority of our inspectors are simply experienced stockmen, and not educated veterinarians. The existence of certain sanitary laws in our surrounding and other States, requiring inspection and health certificates for all domestic animals coming therein, has necessitated the appointment of a number of laymen deputies throughout our State. In fact, all but three are only experienced and competent stockmen, selected and recommended by the stockmen in the community wherein their services are mostly required, and while these inspectors are all as competent as intelligent men of long experience can possibly be, and while their duties in the main have been more than satisfactory, their work conscientious and painstaking, it requires an educated veterinarian to do the work as it should be done. I do not desire to be misunderstood, and mean no reflection, whatever, upon the deputies mentioned, for many of them have, in correspondence with me, and in personal conversation, emphasized the importance of having such positions filled by competent veterinarians; in fact, the mere fact of their official position places them in a position to more clearly see the need for the most skilled inspectors, and they realize that no one but a man specially educated for such work can do it as it should be done. Even a layman, however, cannot afford to give his services and meet his own expense for five dollars per diem, and until our Honorable Assembly sees fit to amend the existing act, to allow these deputies their expenses, it will be impossible to secure competent men, or to make a showing that will be apparent and satisfactory to all our live stock interests. I desire to emphasize the necessity for this amendment to the bill, for as conditions now exist, it is absolutely necessary, in the counties requiring it, to maintain a veterinarian, until such time as glanders is entirely stamped out, and this is the only method by which an already serious matter can be gotten under control. If undertaken at once, this work can be accomplished without undue expense, but if permitted to continue, a large expenditure of money will be required, and most serious loss and inconvenience to our horse breeders and owners. I mention glanders in this connection, for the reason that in certain localities it is the most serious question confronting this department; but at the same time the veterinarian is giving his attention to glanders, other necessary work can be accomplished.

I again desire to call the attention to consumption, or tuberculosis of cattle. The great menace and danger to our herds is through the importation of high class breeding stock, mainly bulls coming from infected eastern herds, and I again beg all buyers to comply with Governor Smith's proclamation, and demand a health certificate, including a tuberculin test, for every animal purchased. Should any, however, be purchased without this precaution, it is the duty of this department to make such tests, at the owner's expense. Any honest breeder of high-class cattle will not refuse this reasonable request, as it is to his advantage, from a commercial standpoint, to see that his herd is clean and that he supplies his customers with the very best animals, and free from disease. How much better it is for us to spend a few thousand dollars annually in preventing this disease, than to do as many Eastern States (New York is a notable example) which annually appropriate over $400,000 to stamp out this one disease.

It will be remembered that I issued a circular letter last year, calling the attention of our cattle owners, particularly the dairymen of this State, to the fact that this office was ready and willing to apply the tuberculin test to all cattle supplying milk to the public, but the only two replies received to this letter were from S. J. Burgess and H. G. Burgess, of this city, whose dairy cattle were all tested, found to be perfectly free from disease, and aside from that, both these dairies were found to be kept in a perfect sanitary condition, as all dairies supplying milk to the public should be. It is to be hoped that the dairymen throughout the State will take advantage of this offer, for they certainly owe it to their customers to not alone supply them with a good quality of milk, but one assuredly from healthy cows, and a dairy in general keeping with the advanced ideas of the care of milk at the present day.

Milk is one of the best media in the world for carrying disease germs, especially that of consumption and diphtheria, and until our State has rigid laws compelling its inspection, this will always be a source of danger to our public health. So it may be said relative to any of our infectious animal diseases—pennies will prevent, where it takes thousands of dollars to stamp out. Fortunately, natural conditions are largely in our favor in the matter of infectious animal diseases, and we should take advantage of this fact. The fruits of rigid and carefully conducted inspections will be felt more and more in years to come, and the importance of this cannot be too often or forceably brought before our stock owners. Pleuro pneumonia is an example of the enormous loss occasioned through lax inspection. All will remember the millions of dollars it cost to stamp out this disease, and had it not been accidentally, but fortunately, checked at Chicago and Northern Illinois, it is more than likely our Montana cattlemen would have met more serious losses by far than all the hard winters' experience during the industry in this State. In fact, the stamping out of this one disease has, I have no doubt, cost our government more than all the inspection for half a century at least, would cost. I again desire to call attention to the necessity for the disinfection of cars in which sheep are transported, as it is such a fruitful source of infection of sheep, intended for breeders or feeders. It is to be hoped our railroads will give this matter serious attention, and I am quite sure if they are made to realize the importance of this measure, they will soon make arrangements to at least disinfect all cars transporting sheep from infected areas. There is another danger to which I desire to call attention in this connection, that is, it is quite common for numbers of our sheepmen to use railway yards in different localities of our State, sometimes for corraling their sheep in at night, and at other times for separating different brands or kinds, out of the common herd. There are certain localities scheduled, including the yards, in which sheep in transit through this State can be unloaded. From now on, these will all be marked, and all owners of sheep throughout the State are warned against using these yards, or quarantined localities, for any local purpose whatsoever. In fact, all are hereby prohibited from using such yards or localities, excepting when loading to ship to an out of the State market.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING BLACK-LEG VACCINE.

For vaccination, the following things are required: An anti-toxine syringe, with at least four or five extra needles, as it will be found the needles, by a beginner, are often broken; a small mortar and pestil; small glass funnel; a package of filter papers; a beaker glass, and an open mouth bottle, or common water glass, in which to filter the vaccine. A quantity of water should be boiled, thoroughly, and allowed to cool, and absolute cleanliness must be practiced in everything pertaining to the operation. Each package of vaccine contains enough for ten animals, and the anti-toxine syringe should be one of the large size, which are usually graduated for twelve doses of vaccine. Empty out a package of the vaccine into the mortar; draw the water up into the syringe to the "10" mark, and always well to draw up a little more than enough for 10, so that in excluding the air from the syringe there will still remain a full measure of 10 doses. Eject sufficient water from the syringe onto the vaccine to wet it; then take the pestil and thoroughly grind and mix the moistened vaccine, gradually adding the water from the syringe until the doses of water are mixed thoroughly with the vaccine matter, then folding the filter paper carefully, to fit the funnel, place it in the glass funnel and moisten with some of the boiled water, this being for the purpose of having the same amount of vaccine when filtered as you had before measuring. If not to be used immediately, put in a cool place until you desire to use it, but no vaccine should be prepared longer than four or five hours before it is needed, and then to be carefully covered, to prevent any outside infection. When ready for use, draw the full ten doses into the syringe, carefully push up the piston, until all air is excluded, then by screwing the control tap down to No. "1" this will guard you against injecting more than a dose at a time, then successively screw the control nut back dose by dose, until the ten calves are vaccinated. For vaccinating, the calves should always be run into a squeeze schute or cast. The injection is preferably made in the tail, from six to eight inches from the tip, always being careful to push the needle in between the skin and the loose tissue above the muscle and bone of the tail. If you fail to get into this loose tissue, it is often difficult to inject the vaccine, but after a few are vaccinated, you will readily get the knack, and can vaccinate four or five hundred a day, if necessary.

It is with the greatest difficulty that I have managed to get along without a clerk, the necessity of which, in the Veterinarian's office, is much greater than is generally known. The law compels all transportation companies within the State to notify the State Veterinarian of the arrival of every shipment of live stock into the State, and without some one is constantly in the office, these notifications cannot get the attention they deserve. A great many sheep are imported into this State from States or localities in States, permanently scab infected, and while I get notification of these shipments, my very frequent absence from the city often delays the notice to the deputy county inspectors until it is possible for these shipments to be unloaded, and our sheep owners thereby subjected to the danger of the infection of their herds. Again, frequently during my absence from the city, urgent calls come by wire, and these fail to reach me as they should because there is no one in the office to give the matter its deserved attention. In fact, there are many things of importance requiring some one to be in the office constantly, and I would respectfully ask that the office be allowed a clerk.

For the benefit of many who seem to think that no federal regulation relative to scab exists, and to give all a thorough understanding of the penalties for the inter-state shipment of diseased sheep, I desire to quote here Sections 6 and 7 of an act of Congress, approved May 29, 1884.

Section 6. That no railroad company within the United States, or the owners or masters of any steam or sailing or other vessel or boat, shall receive for transportation or transport, from one state or territory to another, or from any state into the District of Columbia, or from the District into any state, any live stock affected with any contagious, infectious, or communicable disease, and especially the disease known as pleuro-pneumonia; nor shall any person, company or corporation deliver for such transportation to any railroad company, or master or owner of any contagious, infectious or communicable disease; nor shall any person, company or corporation drive on foot or transport in private conveyance from one state or territory to another, or from any state into the District of Columbia, or from the District into any state, any live stock, knowing them to be affected with any contagious, infectious or communicable disease, and especially the disease known as pleuro-pneumonia: Provided, That the so-called splenic or Texas fever shall not be considered a contagious, infectious or communicable disease, within the meaning of Sections 4, 5, 6 and 7 of this act, as to cattle being transported by rail to market for slaughter, when the same are unloaded only to be fed and watered in lots on the way thereto.

Section 7. That it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Agriculture to notify, in writing, the proper officials or agents of any railroad, steamboat or other transportation company doing business in or through any infected locality, by publication in such newspapers as he may select, of the existence of said contagion; and any person or persons operating any such railroad, or master or owner of any boat or vessel, or owner or custodian of or person having control over such cattle or other live stock within such infected district, who shall knowingly violate the provisions of section 6 of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The provisions of this statute are very specific and clear, and there can be no possible doubt of their application to the disease under consideration. Congress has, nevertheless, gone still further by way of emphasizing this application, and particularly directed the attention of the Department of Agriculture to a few important diseases, including sheep scab, by the following clause, which has been repeated in the appropriation act for a number of years:

* * * and the Secretary of Agriculture is hereby authorized to use any part of this sum he may deem necessary or expedient and in such manner as he may think best, in the collection of information concerning live stock, dairy and other animal products, and to prevent the spread of pleuro-pneumonia, tuberculosis, sheep scab, and any other diseases of animals, and for this purpose to employ as many persons as he may deem necessary.

Acting in accordance with this legislation, the following orders have been made and promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture:

Regulations Prohibiting the Transportation of Animals Affected with Hog Cholera, Tuberculosis or Sheep Scab.

United States Department of Agriculture.
Office of the Secretary.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 13, 1895.

Notice is hereby given that under the law relating to control of contagious and infectious diseases of animals, the regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry, dated April 15, 1887, are hereby amended by additional section, as follows:

Sec. 15. Animals affected with hog cholera, tuberculosis, or sheep scab shall be considered animals affected with contagious or infectious diseases as designated by the law and the regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry, and shall not enter into inter-state trade nor be brought into contact with other animals intended for such trade. Such affected animals shall not be permitted to enter any stock yards or other places where animals are handled for inter-state trade, and when so found at such places shall be condemned, tagged and placed in quarantine by inspectors of said Bureau until proper disposition is made of same.

Stock yard companies, transportation companies, or others receiving or handling such diseased animals are hereby required to thoroughly disinfect such portions of their premises or property as contained such diseased animals, subject to the approval of the inspectors of said Bureau.

Such diseased animals so quarantined shall not be removed therefrom except by written permit of the inspector in charge. When such diseased animals are found, inspectors shall make careful inquiry as to shipper and owner of same, for the purpose of instituting prosecution under the law provided in such cases.

All animals entering stock yards where inspection exists shall be carefully inspected, and those affected with the contagious diseases above mentioned shall be condemned and tagged, and when so condemned shall not be shipped therefrom or enter into inter-state trade; and all violations of this regulation shall be immediately reported to the chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry for institution of prosecution according to law.

J. STERLING MORTON, Secretary.

Transportation of Sheep Affected With Scabies.

United States Department of Agriculture.

Office of the Secretary.

Washington, D. C., June 18, 1897.

In accordance with section 7, of the act of Congress approved May 29, 1884, entitled "An act for the establishment of a Bureau of Animal Industry, to prevent the exportation of diseased cattle, and to provide means for the suppression and extirpation of pleuro-pneumonia and other contagious diseases among domestic animals," and of the act of Congress approved April 23, 1897, making appropriation for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, you are hereby notified that the contagious disease known as sheep scab, or scabies of sheep, exists among sheep in the United States, and that it is a violation of the law to receive for transportation or transport any stock affected with said disease from one state or territory to another, or from any state into the District of Columbia, or from the District into any state. It is also a violation of the law for any person, company or corporation, to deliver for such transportation to any railroad company, or master or owner of any boat or vessel, any sheep, knowing them to be affected with said disease; and it is also unlawful for any person, company or corporation to drive on foot or transport in private conveyance from one state or territory to another, or from any state into the District of Columbia, or from the District into any state, any sheep, knowing them to be affected with said disease. All transportation companies and individuals shipping driving or transporting sheep are requested to co-operate with this Department in enforcing the law for preventing the spread of the said disease. Inspectors of the Bureau of Animal Industry are directed to report all violations of this act which come to their attention.

In order to more effectually accomplish the object of the above mentioned laws, it is hereby ordered that any railroad cars, boats or other vehicles, which have been used in the transportation of sheep affected with said disease, shall be immediately cleaned and disinfected by the owners or transportation companies in whose possession said cars or vehicles may be at the time the animals are unloaded, by first removing all litter and manure which they may contain, and then saturating the woodwork with a 5 per cent solution of crude carbolic acid in water. Inspectors of the Bureau of Animal Industry are directed to see that this order is carried into effect.

JAMES WILSON, Secretary.

OFFICE OF THE

State Board of Stock Commissioners.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 31, 1899.

To His Excellency,

Honorable Robert B. Smith,

Governor, State of Montana:

Sir:—In compliance with statute, the Montana State Board of Stock Commisssioners respectfully begs leave to tender its fourteenth annual report, embodying a synopsis of the Board's work during 1899, with a copy of the record of marks and brands for the same year, as an appendix thereto.

All of the commissioners appointed by you having qualified, the personnel of the Board is as follows :

Commissioner for Beaverhead County.....	M. Barrett.
Commissioner for Broadwater County.....	F. J. Keene.
Commissioner for Carbon County.....	J. N. Tolman.
Commissioner for Cascade County.....	Jacob Sieben.
Commissioner for Choteau County.....	C. J. McNamara.
Commissioner for Custer County.....	O. C. Cato.
Commissioner for Dawson County.....	Chas. Krug.
Commissioner for Deer Lodge County.....	John Bielenberg.
Commissioner for Fergus County	S. S. Hobson.
Commissioner for Flathead County.....	J. A. Ford.
Commissioner for Gallatin County.....	V. A. Cockrill.
Commissioner for Granite County.....	A. A. McDonald.
Commissioner for Jefferson County.....	John Flaherty.
Commissioner for Lewis and Clarke County.....	J. T. Murphy.
Commissioner for Madison County.....	W. J. Ennis.
Commissioner for Meagher County.....	Len Lewis.
Commissioner for Missoula County.....	J. A. MacGowan.
Commissioner for Park County	G. W. Wakefield.
Commissioner for Ravalli County.....	G. W. Ward.
Commissioner for Silver Bow County.....	Levi Cartier.
Commissioner for Sweet Grass County.....	J. N. Kelly.
Commissioner for Teton County	W. K. Flowerree.
Commissioner for Valley County.....	M. E. Milner.
Commissioner for Yellowstone County.....	David Fratt.

Mr. John T. Murphy was elected President of the Board, and W. G. Preuitt its Secretary.

The regular inspection force at the commencement of the year was composed of but seven men, stationed as follows: J. H. Lander and R. P. Heren, at Chicago; H. E. Bourdette, St. Paul; R. H. Rickard, South Omaha; W. D. Smith, Miles City; Harry Lund, Ft. Benton, and John W. Collins, at Butte. In addition thereto A. C. Hammond, of Dillon, and E. Serruys, of Dawson County, who were given temporary appointments for the winter, were retained on the force until spring, when Mr. Serruys was released and Mr. Hammond was superseded by George G. Taylor, who continued in the service until December 1st. During the summer Mr. Collins was transferred to Billings, and M. P. Sipple was appointed his successor at Butte for the west side work; Benj. Townsley was given a temporary appointment for Jefferson and Broadwater Counties, C. W. Smith for Gallatin, W. W. Green for Madison, G. W. Crosby for Meagher, Manford Engle for Carbon, Bert Nuttall for Park, and E. D. Bowmer for Fergus, but all excepting Mr. Bowmer have been released, as their services were intended to cover only that part of the autumn and winter when such protection was most required by the stock interests in those counties. In Cascade County R. T. Allin has been employed per diem by the Commissioner, so that his pay is for such time only as he is in actual service. The Lewis and Clarke County Association employed C. W. Willis during the fall, and this Board contributed each month toward his salary. The stockmen in the vicinity of Malta desired the services of an inspector, and volunteered to provide half his salary if this Board would pay the rest, which has been done, and will be continued until spring. W. W. Lamkin was appointed to the position. The stockmen in southeastern Montana, at the intersecting boundaries of Montana, South Dakota and Wyoming, have been employing J. S. Lefors as special inspector, and last winter your Board paid his salary for four months. On the 1st of December E. K. Preuitt was added to the regular inspection force, to work principally along the line of the Great Northern Railway, from Helena northward. During the shipping season W. H. Rhoades and R. B.

Anderson were sent to the Chicago yards to assist during the busiest season, and C. L. Heren was sent to Sioux City to protect that market. Mr. Heren is still on the force but the others have been released. Aside from the aforementioned appointments, thirteen commissions without pay are held in various localities throughout the state, the salaries being provided by local associations or stockmen, and the appointments were made at their solicitation.

The Board has been enabled to accomplish much more during the past year in the employment of inspectors than heretofore, owing to the fact that our finances have been gotten into such excellent shape that we have not been so greatly hampered by lack of funds. Each county has been given more and better inspection service than ever before, and we are hopeful of being able to continue the extension of systematic inspection work throughout the state.

The reports of the inspectors' work for the year make a very creditable showing, with sixty arrests for violation of the stock laws. Of this number sixteen convictions were had, while there are eleven cases still pending and three warrants are still out; one party was extradited by the Canadian authorities and convicted in the Canadian courts, while two were taken to other states on requisitions, one of them being convicted, and two jumped their bonds and have not been captured. Aside from the enforcement of the stock laws, nearly all of our regular inspectors are likewise deputed as sheriffs and render very considerable aid in the enforcement of the general criminal laws. We have a very efficient inspection force of inestimable value to the live stock interests.

Among the duties of the inspectors is the examination of hides of cattle, killed on the railways of the state, and the 1899 reports show a total of 782 hides so inspected and reported. The care and inspection of such hides is regulated by statute, and notice of inspection is sent from this office to the individual owners, enabling them to claim compensation from the railway companies for the value of their animals so killed.

The inspection of cattle at the markets has been satisfactory, as usual. This inspection is of great value to stockmen, particularly the smaller owners, as every animal is carefully inspected, a record made of all brands and marks, and proceeds from the sale of estrays sent to the respective owners. Every facility is afforded for thorough and expert work, and notwithstanding the large number of cattle crowded on the market within so short a time, errors are infrequent and complaints few. This market inspection is maintained throughout the year, so that it is an impossibility to ship cattle from the state to market at any time without undergoing inspection. Proceeds of strays are sent to the Montana Stock Growers' Association, and thence to individual owners, who are located by means of the official record of marks and brands.

Cattle shipments fell somewhat short of the previous year, probably about 15 per cent, which may be accounted for in the decrease of range herds, and the indications are that there will be a gradual increase in this shortage for some years to come. The state is rapidly becoming settled, and range privileges are accordingly curtailed, although it is doubtful if this will create any ultimate decrease in the total number of cattle in the state, as ranch cattle will eventually increase proportionately as the range herds disappear. During the past season the inspectors report a total of 203,498 head of cattle shipped out of Montana, including home consumption and such as were shipped out to the feeding districts in the corn states. Of this number there were 10,755 strays recovered by the inspectors, proceeds of 8,367 being paid direct to the owners, while the remaining 2,388 head were paid to owners through the Montana Stock Growers' Association. On account of the high prices prevailing for stock cattle, the number of young stock brought into the state during the year was not up to the normal number, as the total did not exceed 50,000 head. Of this number 1,844 head were thoroughbred cattle brought in for breeding purposes. Stockmen throughout Montana are procuring the best breeding stock to be had, which augurs well for the future of the cattle business in this state.

The marked improvement in the horse market resulted in the shipment from Montana of a larger number of horses than have gone out in several years past. For some years most horse owners have paid little attention to their stock, making no attempt to brand the increase or claim it in any manner. This has had the effect of depreciating the quality of horse stock, besides creating a large number of mavericks on the ranges. During the past year, a systematic effort has been made in many localities to rid the ranges of this class of stock, which has been destructive to the ranges and detrimental to valuable stock interests. The number of horses shipped from Montana during 1899 aggregates 35,000 head, as shown by inspection reports of officers authorized under the new inspection law to perform this inspection. This law requires the inspection of all horses exported, and while there was some disposition to evade the law at the beginning, an example or two had the desired effect and we believe there has since been a general compliance with the law, which has served as an effectual check on horse stealing. The condition of the market indicates that horse raisers who have kept up the quality of their stock are in a fair way to be repaid for their years of profitless labor and investment.

We append hereto a statement of the inspection work of the Board since its organization:

A contract was made with the North Dakota stockmen, whereby they paid this Board the sum of $700 to procure the benefit of our market inspection for the year, the arrangement being mutually satisfactory. We have also made same few collections from parties owning stock outside the state, who desired the benefit of our inspection system, such funds being expended for inspection purposes.

The Montana Stock Growers' Association has been a strong support to this Board in all of its work, both morally and financially, their contributions to the Board aggregating $9,260.40, which has materially assisted in the broadening of this work. The funds contributed by the Association are held in trust by the Board and expended in accord with the wishes of their executive committee, but under the direction and supervision of this Board. The Association is a most beneficial organization to the stock interests of Montana, and every stockman, whether great or small, should be on its membership roll. The North Montana Association has likewise aided us very appreciably and we are glad to acknowledge such assistance.

The new bounty law appears to be working most satisfactorily, and we hope it will have the result of greatly decreasing the number of depredating animals in Montana. The tax is a heavy one on the stock interests, but if the desired result is attained, the expense will be cheerfully borne. We feel that the live stock interests should be accorded such legislation as they request, in view of the fact that they are taxing themselves exclusively for their own protection, besides contributing their proportion to the support of the general interests. The number of claims filed for bounty is decreasing, while the fund has been greatly augmented by the increasing tax levy, so there is not only a sufficiently large fund to provide a cash bounty, so that certificates are worth their face value, but the old claims under previous acts are likely to soon be paid up. We believe too that the restrictions of the new law prevent the practice of fraud to the extent that existed under the previous law.

The increased efficiency of the United States Weather Bureau is heartily appreciated by Montana stock interests. These weather reports are circulated generally throughout the state, and we understand arrangements have been made for special storm warnings in certain remote localities. This service is of great interest and benefit to stockmen.

The rules governing the recording and use of brands are the same as heretofore and during the year thirteen hundred brands have been placed on record, the largest number for any one year in the history of the office. There is a disposition on the part of stockmen to procure the assignment of the old unused brands, owing to the existing difficulty of procuring desirable new brands. We desire to encourage this in every way possible, as the old brands are much plainer than anything now available for record, and the records are thus cleared of disused brands. There are now about 16,000 brands on record in Montana, although many of them are not in use, but still remain on the records, and without legal assignments of same can be procured, the use of them is barred.

Appended to this report is the annual report of State Veterinarian Knowles, on which we make no especial comment inasmuch as it is made a part of this report. The work of the State Veterinarian's office has been very efficient and satisfactory.

We also incorporate herein a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund, as shown by the State Treasurer's books, and as the itemized account of the disbursements appears in the State Auditor's report, we do not repeat it here.

Report of
State Veterinary Surgeon
For 1899.

Report of the State Veterinary Surgeon.

Helena, Montana, October 1st, 1899.

To the Honorable Live Stock Commission of the State of Montana:

Gentlemen—While the year of 1898 was an active one in my department, the year of 1899 has probably been the most active one in the history of the office.

The last legislature increasing the expense account of the State Veterinarian, made it possible to answer all the calls coming to my office, some of them being attended promptly, while it was necessary to delay others.

A number of calls came to my office for the investigation of diseases not of a contagious or infectious character. It is practically impossible to distinguish between the necessary calls and the unnecessary, when the one making the request does not in some measure give the symptoms shown by the animals supposed to be suffering from contagious or infectious disease.

Contagious ophthalmiae, commonly called "pink eye," of cattle, has existed to a considerable extent throughout the state during the late summer, and under the present range conditions, it is practically impossible to control this disease; however, as a majority of cases recover of their own accord, and only a few lose their vision or become blind, it is probably not of sufficient importance to demand any special attention. Where it is possible, however, and the disease is noticed early, it is always advisable to separate the diseased from the healthy, which, if carefully done and faithfully carried out, will prevent the dissemination of the disease.

Blackleg has been much less prevalent this year than last, which is probably due to the great number of owners having vaccinated their calves.

In certain localities of the state, a contagious skin disease, known as "Psoroptic Scabies," "cattle, mange," "cattle scab," or "buffalo itch," has been existing for several years. Some of the older cattlemen of the state claim that it has existed in certain localities in Montana from ten to twenty years. During the past summer I have examined a large number of cattle for this trouble, all under range conditions, and am led to believe from these observations that the disease is not a serious one and could be handled with little difficulty by the hearty co-operation of our cattlemen.

I am satisfied that the percentage of mortality is exceedingly small, and that most deaths probably occur during winter, when the animals are very much impoverished from exposure to cold and lack of feed. However, the investigation as to the seriousness of this disease is still being carried on, and a further report is herewith appended.

A number of deaths among cattle of various ages have occurred in different localities of the state during the past year, from a variety of poisonous plants; however, the percentage of loss has not been very great.

Loco among cattle has been reported to this office during the past year but once. In that instance the percentage of affected cattle was large, there being seventeen out of a bunch of one hundred steers, all of them yearlings and two-year-olds.

There has been no reported cases of tuberculosis (consumption) among cattle during the past year.

Glanders among horses has been less prevalent this year than last, only sixty head being destroyed as suffering from the disease, while 235 head were placed in quarantine.

Health certificates for export shipments have been issued by this department during the year for 4,175 horses,

4,928 cattle,
20,690 sheep,
647 hogs.

These referring to certificates requested only for export.

Respectfully submitted,

M. E. KNOWLES.

Supplement.

CATTLE SCAB.

PSOROPTIC SCABIES OF THE OX.

(Psoroptes communis var. bovis.)

Common names—Cattle scab, mange; buffalo itch, etc., etc.

Neumann records that Linnaeus observed on cattle a mange, that was caused and maintained by insects, which were found located in the tubercles of the skin; but, in reality, the first mention of the parasite (1813) is due to Dorfuille, a French veterinarian at Port-Sainte-Marie, who reported his discovery to Gohier, who, in the following year, found this acarus on Hungarian cattle, which the Austrian army brought in large numbers to Lyons.

Gohier regarded this parasite as identical with psoroptes communis var. equi, with which he was familiar.

Delafond, in 1856, discovered this parasite on English and Limousin cattle, at about the same time that Gerlach discovered it on mangy cattle at Bromberg.

Muller observed it in 1860, and at intervals since that time it has been observed in France.

Fleming says the disease is not uncommon in the United Kingdom.

Responsible cattlemen of Montana maintain that this disease has existed on Montan ranges since 1872, in some years extensively so, during other years hardly noticeable, or to such a slight extent as to occasion no alarm on the part of the owners. Mr. Conrad Kohrs, probably the oldest cattleman in Montana, states that after two or three mild winters the disease seems to disappear. The best evidence that the disease does not disappear after mild winters is the fact that at present it is so prevalent, and there is no doubt that the above statement is made from the fact that the disease shows less in warm or mild weather than it does in extreme cold.

Mr. Kohrs and many of our Montana cattle owners believe that the contagion came from the buffalo, and describe the disease as having affected buffalo in the same manner.

Old buffalo hunters have described to me such a skin affection, claiming to have killed buffalo where the hide would be worthless from complete absence of hair and covered with ulcers. They also relate that the disease appeared to be worse on the neck, withers and base of the tail. While it is quite possible that buffalo suffered from some form of scabies, it would seem strange that it should be perpetuated among range cattle in a limited area of Montana and Northwest Territory, when the buffalo roamed over the entire western plains, and so far there is no evidence to show that the disease exists south of us, in Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico or Texas, in all of which localities buffalo were plentiful.

Roll, a Continental veterinarian, claims to have seen the disease on buffalo, no doubt referring to the European buffalo.

So far as I have been able to ascertain up to this date, Psoroptic Scabies in Montana only exists on the ranges north of the Missouri River, and from the Rocky Mountains to North Dakota, although it is said by cattlemen of repute and long experience (who own cattle in the above mentioned locality) to exist throughout the state.

The disease commences at the root of the tail, or on the neck and withers, extending to the shoulder, back, sides of chest, and in long standing cases to the entire body and head, except the extremities below the knee and hock—at least I have never observed it in these regions.

The animal scratches and rubs by every available means, the pruritis (itching) is intense. I have observed animals scratching on wire fences, frequently cutting the skin through for a distance of from eight to fourteen inches on the sharp barbs. They are also observed scratching and rubbing against each other, in this manner more certainly spreading the contagion.

When an animal is in an advanced stage of the disease, it takes refuge near an object on which it can rub, and will not leave that object for sufficient time to graze and obtain necessary sustenance.

On the invaded areas, small elevations of the skin are observed single or running together, from which a fluid (serum) exudes, that dries and forms in successive layers of hard crusts, under and between which the parasites are found. The skin is thickened, hard and dry in localities, and on the neck, withers, shoulders and sides of the chest, thick folds will be observed. Death occurs during winter in many of the serious cases from freezing, the animal being almost devoid of hair, aenemic and debilitated. Mr. Conrad Kohrs, Mr. Henry Sieben and other cattlemen of experience, maintain the disease to be more among bulls than other cattle. There can be little doubt as to the accuracy of this statement, from the fact that there are only a small percentage of bulls in a great number of range cattle, and that they come intimately in contact with a greater number of cattle than any other sex.

Neumann states that Gerlach and Muller remarked on the modifications occurring in this form of scabies by change of season, reciting an instance where the disease prevailed among cattle every year, commencing toward the end of autumn, when the animals began to be housed, reaching its maximum in February, and diminishing in the spring, when the oxen were employed at labor; the crusts then became detached, the hairs grew, and there then remained only a few bare patches at the root of the tail and on the neck. The train of symptoms reappeared each autumn. The same writer also observes that these parasites (Psoroptes) persist during the summer, although the cattle appeared to be cured. They (Gerlach and Muller) found the parasite in great numbers on the neck and around the horns. I have found great numbers of the parasite on cattle during the summer months, and was surprised at the slight amount of skin irritation at this time; in fact, one must observe closely to discover it; but I have observed the disease persisting throughout the summer, and apparent to the most careless observer.

Neumann concludes from these facts that the residence of cattle in warm stables during the winter favors the development of the parasite. I cannot agree with the last statement. All the cattle in Montana suffering from this disease are range cattle that never know a stable from birth to slaughter, and while it is true that the disease in many instances apparently gets well of its own accord during the summer, the parasite still remains, and on the approach of cold weather the disease is aggravated rapidly, due to the fact that the acarus requires more blood for its sustenance during cold weather, making it perforce more active, and there is no doubt the secretions of the parasite are more irritating in cold than during warm weather.

All cattlemen of long experience with this disease on Montana ranges maintained, until shown the Psoroptes, that the disease was due to "hard winters"; from the freezing and thawing of the snow accumulating on the backs of the cattle, and long continued cold winters. They say the disease has been particularly noticeable after our very hard winters, and that after an open, mild winter, but few cases of it have been observed. It is also said the disease is much worse on the open plains than where there is shelter, such as it afforded by the "breaks" along the Missouri, Marias, Teton and other streams, and in the mountains. My observation has been that the disease persists with equal severity on the plains and in the sheltered places.

It is difficult, under range conditions, to arrive at an accurate estimate of the number affected with the disease, but from my observations during the past year, would regard as a conservative estimate of the cattle ranging north of the Missouri River, and from the mountains to the Dakota line, that about three per cent are affected. This estimate refers to cattle plainly showing the disease, but there is no doubt that equally as great, or greater, percentage are affected, that during the warm summer months show no evidence of it until cast and carefully examined.

The problem of promptly and successfully stamping out this disease, under range conditions, is one of considerable magnitude. The disease is easily cured under close domestication, where cattle are gentle and easily handled, but as is well known, range cattle are wild and difficult to manage, and when large numbers must be handled, the process of hand-treating them is slow and unsatisfactory, for it necessitates casting each animal to properly apply the remedy, and then if not carefully supervised by one of experience, same diseased part may be overlooked.

I give it as my opinion that to successfully and economically handle this disease, it will be necessary to construct dipping vats in the infected areas, and dip the diseased cattle as sheep are dipped. There is no doubt but that the initial expense of this procedure will be relatively large, but taking into consideration the number of cattle to be dipped will minimize it, and without question give better results in the end. The treatment so far adopted this year has been hand-treating with paraffine oil and sulphur, and the results up to date have been fairly satisfactory, where supervised by experienced men.

M. E. KNOWLES.

OFFICE OF THE

State Board of Stock Commissioners.

Helena, Montana, Dec. 31st, 1900.

To His Excellency,

HONORABLE ROBERT B. SMITH,

Governor of Montana.

Sir:—In pursuance of statute and in accordance with custom, the Montana State Board of Stock Commissioners respectfully begs leave to tender its fifteenth annual report which embodies a synopsis of the Board's work during the year 1900, and includes as an appendix, the report of the Recorder of Marks and Brands and the report of the State Veterinary Surgeon for the same year.

The personnel of the Board for the year was the same as during the preceding year, as follows:

Commissioner for Beaverhead County.....	M. Barrett, Red Rock.
Commissioner for Broadwater County.....	F. J. Keene, Canton.
Commissioner for Carbon County	J. N. Tolman, Red Lodge.
Commissioner for Cascade County	Jacob Sieben, Cascade.
Commissioner for Choteau County	C. J. McNamara, Big Sandy.
Commissioner for Custer County ..	O. C. Cato, Miles City.
Commissioner for Dawson County	Chas. Krug, Glendive.
Commissioner for Deer Lodge County	John Bielenberg, Deer Lodge.
Commissioner for Fergus County ..	S. S. Hobson, Utica.
Commissioner for Flathead County	J. A. Ford, Kalispell.
Commissioner for Gallatin County	V. A. Cockrill, Bozeman.
Commissioner for Granite County ..	A. A. McDonald, Philipsburg.
Commissioner for Jefferson County	John Flaherty, Cold Springs.
Commissioner for Lewis and Clarke County.....	J. T. Murphy, Helena.
Commissioner for Madison County ..	W. J. Ennis, Ennis.
Commissioner for Meagher County	Len Lewis, Lewis.
Commissioner for Missoula County	J. A. McGowan, Plains.
Commissioner for Park County ..	G. W. Wakefield, Livingston.
Commissioner for Ravalli County ..	G. W. Ward, Hamilton.
Commissioner for Silver Bow County.....	Levi Cartier, Butte.
Commissioner for Sweet Grass County.....	J. N. Kelly, Springdale.
Commissioner for Teton County ..	W. K. Flowerree, Lowry.
Commissioner for Valley County ..	M. E. Milner, Ft. Benton.
Commissioner for Yellowstone County.....	D. Fratt, Billings.

The Board convened twice during the year, once on April 13th for the purpose of apportioning the inspection work for the year, and in reviewing the work of its officers,—and again on December 3rd—at which meeting the Board officially approved the work of its officers during the past two years, and after expressing itself on matters pertaining to legislation, selected a committee to frame and secure the passage of such laws and amendments as would conform with the Board's recommendations. The committee consisted of Messrs. Kelly, Bielenberg and Cockrill.

As a result of the rigid economy practiced by the Board during the past ten years, its finances have been placed on a sound basis, and the fund at its command will now permit the accomplishment of a much greater and satisfactory work than in past years. Inspection was more liberally apportioned during the year 1900, than during any previous year, owing to this fact, and we believe that, great as have been the benefits of the Board's work to stockmen in past years, it will prove vastly more so in the future. Some changes were made in the inspection force during the year, whereby Mr. R. P. Heren succeeded J. H. Lander as inspector at Chicago, Frank Carter succeeded M. P. Sipple at Butte and C. S. Stafford was appointed inspector for Valley County to succeed W. W. Lamkin. In addition, C. W. Smith was employed for five months as inspector for Gallatin County. F. T. McCormick for Broadwater County, A. R. Russell for Meagher County, J. Morkle for Missoula County and S. A. Hotchkiss at the Sioux City market, but these have all been released from service as the necessity for their services was done away with. The regular inspection force as it now stands is as follows: At Chicago, R. P. Heren and C. L. Heren; So. St. Paul, H. E. Bourdette; So. Omaha, R. H. Rickard; Miles City, W. D. Smith; Billings, J. W. Collins; Helena, E. K. Preuitt; Ft. Benton, Harry Lund; Lewistown, E. D. Bowmer; Butte, Frank Carter; Dillon, N. M. Staudaher; Madison County, W. W. Green; Valley County, C. S. Stafford at Culbertson; Carbon County, Manford Engle. Messrs. W. H. Rhoades and R. B. Anderson were retained at Chicago during the busy season to assist in the inspection work there, but were released at the expiration of the season's work, Dec. 15th. There are also a number of commissions held without compensation by the Board, by stockmen in various localities which gives additional protection to the stock interests, and A. A. Burbanks of Cascade County is commissioned as inspector, receiving compensation per diem for the actual time he is engaged in inspection work. So it will be observed that the entire state has been quite thoroughly covered by the work of the inspectors and every county has received more or less direct inspection work. The regular inspectors, while keeping headquarters at some central point, are kept travelling to all parts of the state from which calls or complaints emanate, and the work of the force of inspectors has been very satisfactory during 1900, as an examination of the table of statistics will demonstrate. Not every man has the qualifications for a successful stock inspector—and it sometimes takes time to develop them, but we have a most efficient inspection force at the present time.

The inspection reports for the year 1900, show a total of sixty-five arrests made, of which number there were thirty-nine convictions had, and fourteen cases are still pending; amongst these fourteen are some cases of great importance to the live stock interests as they have been the source of much aggravation and loss for several years past and we are hopeful of securing convictions. Among the convictions were two men for defrauding the state under the wolf bounty law in Dawson and Custer Counties, which were also of much importance to the state in general. In addition, one of the arrests made during the year for cattle stealing, was a case where the party broke jail through the carelessness of the officer who had him in custody. Later one of our inspectors located him in an adjoining state and he was brought back and again placed in jail, but again escaped and is still at large. Almost all of our regular inspectors are also deputized by the sheriffs of their respective counties and render invaluable service to the county and state authorities in the enforcement of the general laws.

Among the duties of the inspectors is the inspection of the hides of stock killed on the railroads within the state, a report of which is filed with the secretary of this Board and notices sent to the individual owners to enable them to recover the value of their stock killed, from the railroad companies. During the year 1900, a total of five hundred and thirteen hides were so inspected and the owners notified. Complaints have been received recently from stockmen that there is not the strict observance of this law on the part of the railroad companies that there should be, and we propose making it a point during the ensuing year to ascertain the correctness of these reports and compel a compliance with all the provisions of the law.

The inspection of cattle and horses at the markets has been maintained in the same efficient manner as in the past, and a complete record of all cattle shipped out of the state is kept on file for public inspection with the Montana Stock Growers' Association at its office in Helena. Proceeds of all strays recovered have likewise been forwarded to the secretary-treasurer of the association for disbursement to the respective owners, who are located by means of the general record of marks and brands. In all cases where owners file written application at Chicago for the remittance of their proceeds of strays direct without going through the process of being disbursed by the association, the request is always complied with and in this manner the proceeds of about two-thirds of all the strays recovered, goes direct to the owners from the market points. The association keeps a complete record of all of these cattle however.

Cattle shipments for 1900 again fell short of the previous year by ten or twelve per cent, which can be accounted for in the further shrinkage of the range cattle business. The steady and rapid settlement of the state is fast curtailing range privileges, and while there was a decrease in the output, yet the total number of cattle remaining in the state doubtless shows a decided increase over the previous year owing to the multiplication of small ranch herds, the increase of which aggregates more than the decrease in range herds. During the past year the inspector's reports give a total of 120,055 head of cattle shipped out of the state, including those sent to eastern markets, feeders shipped into the corn belt, and some two thousand head which were sent to Pacific coast markets. Slaughtering establishments on the coast are just learning the value of Montana beef and it is not improbable they will create quite a valuable market there for Montana products, inasmuch as they are unable to supply their own demand. In addition to the cattle shipments, the home consumption is estimated at about 60,000 head, making the total beef output 180,055 for the year. Of this number there were 11,649 head of strays found by the inspectors, proceeds of 7,751 of them being remitted for direct to owners, while the remaining 3,898 head were remitted to owners through the Montana Stock Grower's Association.

The high prices of young stock were maintained so that there is still a shortage in the number brought in to replenish the ranges, the total number aggregating 70,000 head of which 445 head were thoroughbred cattle for breeding purposes. Through this continued importation of fine breeding stock the quality of Montana cattle is steadily improving.

Notwithstanding a slump in the horse market, the average price on Montana horses has still been fairly good, and with the exception of the previous year, was better than for a number of years prior to 1900. As a result there was a continuance of the unusually heavy shipments of horses in 1899, and during 1900 the total shipments of horses from the state of Montana exceeded 70,000 head, nearly all of which were marketed in the farming districts of the Mississippi and Missouri valleys. This has served to clear the ranges in several counties of a most undesirable class of livestock, which possessed little value and yet served to prevent stockmen from putting in some more profitable kind of stock. The law enacted by the last legislative assembly providing for the inspection of all horses shipped out of the state, has not worked as satisfactorily as was anticipated, and an effort will be made to so amend it that it will afford ample protection to horsemen. The inspectors recovered 41 head of stray horses from shipments, proceeds of fourteen of which were paid to owners through the Montana Stock Grower's Association.

We append hereto a statement of the inspection work of the Board since its organization.

The climatic conditions of the year 1900 were not so satisfactory as during some previous years, for while the winter was a mild one, closing with an unusually early spring, there was a scarcity of moisture which showed its effect in a depletion of both feed and water on the ranges. The consequent condition of beef was therefore unsatisfactory—and there were comparatively few really fat cattle marketed, a considerable number going for feeder stuff, while in a few cases a change of range was effected and the stock left over until another season. However, stock have gone into the winter in good condition, and except, as already noted, for the scarcity of grass and water in many localities, the prospects are not discouraging.

The Dakota stockmen were unable to hold their organization together this past year, consequently the individual members took advantage of the opportunity of joining the Montana Stock Grower's Association, and paid for the inspection of their stock at the same rate as our own people pay through taxation.

The Board still desires to acknowledge the strong support given it in all of its working by the Montana Stock Grower's Association and to commend that organization to all stockmen as of great benefit to the live stock interests.

The bounty law has been working most satisfactorily and all

OFFICE OF THE

State Board of Stock Commissioners.

Helena, Montana, December 31st, 1901.

To His Excellency,

HONORABLE JOSEPH K. TOOLE,

Governor, State of Montana.

Sir:—As provided by law and in accordance with custom, the Montana State Board of Stock Commissioners respectfully begs leave to tender its sixteenth annual report, embodying a synopsis of the work of the Board during the past year, and including as an appendix the report of the Recorder of Marks and Brands and the report of the State Veterinary Surgeon for 1901.

The personnel of the Board was slightly changed during the year, the last Legislative Assembly having created two additional counties, Powell and Rosebud, which occasions a corresponding increase in the Board membership. The death of Mr. V. A. Cockrill who represented Gallatin County on the Board, removed one of our most able and active members, whose demise was a loss not only to his own county, but to the stock interests of the entire state. He was a good citizen and always took a keen interest in whatever was of benefit to the interests he represented and he will be greatly missed. Mr. H. H. Sappington was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Cockrill's death. The Board is at present constituted as follows, no one having been found to represent Missoula County and the appointee for Ravalli County failing to qualify.

Commissioner for Beaverhead County.....	Martin Barrett, Redrock.
Commissioner for Broadwater County.....	F. J. Keene, Canton.
Commissioner for Carbon County	J. N. Tolman, Red Lodge.
Commissioner for Cascade County	Jacob Sieben, Cascade.
Commissioner for Choteau County	C. J. McNamara, Big Sandy.
Commissioner for Custer County.....	O. C. Cato, Miles City.
Commissioner for Dawson County	F. P. Fleming, Glendive.
Commissioner for Deer Lodge County	D. D. Walker, Anaconda.
Commissioner for Fergus County.....	Oscar Stephens, Ft. Maginnis.
Commissioner for Flathead County	J. A. Ford, Kalispell.
Commissioner for Gallatin County	H. H. Sappington, Sand Creek.

Commissioner for Granite County	A. A. McDonald, Philipsburg.
Commissioner for Jefferson County	John Flaherty, Cold Spring.
Commissioner for Lewis and Clarke County....	John T. Murphy, Helena.
Commissioner for Madison County	J. W. Saunders, Ennis.
Commissioner for Meagher County	Len Lewis, Lewis.
Commissioner for Missoula County
Commissioner for Park County	G. W. Wakefield, Livingston.
Commissioner for Powell County	John Bielenberg, Deer Lodge.
Commissioner for Ravalli County..
Commissioner for Rosebud County	J. T. Brown, Birney.
Commissioner for Silver Bow County	George Tong, Butte.
Commissioner for Sweet Grass County	J. N. Kelly, Hunters Hot Springs.
Commissioner for Teton County	W. K. Flowerree, Lowry.
Commissioner for Valley County	M. E. Milner, Ft. Benton.
Commissioner for Yellowstone County	David Fratt, Billings.

At the first meeting of the Board after its appointment and confirmation an organization was perfected at which time Mr. J. T. Murphy was elected President and W. G. Preuitt, Secretary. This meeting was held in April at which time the work of the officers and the Board accounts were examined into and approved, while the current year's work was arranged so far as was possible.

The regular force of inspectors at the commencement of the year was made up with R. P. Heren at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago. R. H. Rickard at South Omaha; H. E. Bourdette at South St. Paul; C. L. Heren at Sioux City; W. D. Smith with headquarters at Miles City; Harry Lund at Ft. Benton; John W. Collins at Billings; E. K. Preuitt with headquarters at Helena; C. S. Stafford, Culbertson and N. M. Staudaher at Dillon. Later in the season as opportunities for inspection and detective work opened up, George Twible was commissioned as special inspector in Dawson County, T. B. McShane for Cascade County, William Courtois for Powell, Deer Lodge and Silver Bow Counties; Oscar M. Rader for Meagher County; W. G. Gilmer for Madison County, W. A. Dake for Carbon County and C. W. Smith for Gallatin County, while Theo. Nichols was appointed as regular inspector for Fergus County with headquarters at Lewistown and J. C. Ware was given a temporary appointment in Flathead County and C. W. Harding in the Musselshell country. As the shipment of cattle began, C. L. Heren was transferred to Chicago as assistant inspector and J. C. Anderson was sent to Sioux City to look after such shipments as might come to that market.

Jacob Sieben was also sent to Chicago as assistant inspector during the shipping season. As the work of these men was completed or the funds from their respective counties became exhausted, they were released from service. Mr. Moore for Broadwater County being released August 31st. Mr. Sieben at Chicago, Nov. 1st; Mr. Rader, Nov. 15th; Mr. McShane, Dec. 15th; Mr. Twible, Dec. 1st; Mr. Anderson, Dec. 31st and Mr. Courtois, Dec. 31st, while Messrs. Ware and Hardin will terminate their services early in January. Mr. Lund resigned his position Dec. 1st and no one has as yet been selected as his successor. The Board aims to make the wisest expenditure possible of the funds at its command, whereby the greatest possible service and benefit may be rendered the live stock interests, and in pursuance of this plan an effort has been made to maintain more local inspection and detective work by employing men to work in almost all of the individual counties of the state. The excellent financial condition of the Board enabled them to do this during 1901 to a greater extent than they have been able to for some years past. Stockmen generally throughout the state have very freely expressed their approval of the past season's work, and the statistics or summary for the year makes a very creditable exhibit.

The inspection reports for the year 1901, show a total of ninety-one arrests for violation of the stock laws, the results of which were thirty-nine convictions, with twenty cases still pending, and eight others jumped their bonds and one was killed while seeking to escape from the officers. Among the arrests were some very important ones, which were effective in breaking up some notorious gangs of rustlers which had been operating for years past, successfully eluding the officers. Possibly the more notable of these cases were those in Dawson, Teton and Sweet Grass Counties, in the last named of which were had the first two convictions for cattle stealing ever known in that county, and as may be imagined, its influence was most beneficial. In Dawson County there has existed one of the most desperate gangs of outlaws known in the west—but the past year's work has resulted in the breaking up and scattering of this outfit. In Teton County, an organized gang successfully made way with a large number of horses in the early part of last winter, but upon attempting a second steal were captured and almost the entire gang sent to the penitentiary, one having fled the country to escape arrest and punishment. There were a few cases in which shippers of horses attempted to evade the inspection law, but were detected and fined as provided by law. A few butchers also, were found who were not keeping their records in accordance with the statute and they too were subjected to the statutory fine. Of the twenty cases still pending, some are most important ones in which the stockmen are greatly interested. The past year seems to have been an unusually aggravating one in this respect as the table of arrests shows a greater number than any other year since the Board was organized. Doubtless the increased value of horses may account for this, at least partially, but it would seem as though every rustler in the state had exerted himself to ply his vocation as actively as possible during the year just passed, and perhaps too the increased number of inspectors with its attendant watchfulness might properly account for much of this year's record.

In compliance with the statute which provides for the payment for cattle killed on the railroads within the state, the railroad companies have cared for the hides in accordance with law and the inspectors who have examined these hides report a total of four hundred and sixty-seven hides so inspected during the year. We have notified the various owners of these cattle according to the inspection report of the brands on the hides, and the railroad companies have been prompt in paying for them.

The working of the inspection system both at the markets and within the borders of the state, has been most satisfactory during 1901. While the preceding winter was a very mild one and favorable to the live stock interests, the spring was an exceptionally dry one and the outlook for feed for the summer was most discouraging. However, heavy and continued rains fell during May and June thereby ensuring an abundant growth of grass, and beef matured quite as early as usual, the first shipments commencing about the first of August. The total number of cattle shipped from the state shows a decrease of about twenty-five per cent from the previous year's shipments there having been a total of ninety-two thousand head shipped during the year, thirty-one hundred of which were sent to the markets of Seattle and Portland and eighteen hundred and seventy-one were shipped out to other states for feeding purposes.

The number used to supply the home market and the Indian Agencies within the state was about the same as last year—sixty thousand head—making the total beef output for 1901 aggregate 152,000 head of cattle, a net decrease of twenty per cent. Of the total number inspected, there were 5,843 head of strays recovered by the inspectors, proceeds of 1,991 of which were paid to the owners through the Montana Stock Growers' Association, while the remaining 3,852 head were paid for direct to the owners, who in many cases have arranged with their commission house to make direct remittance for strays so found. The Canadian stockmen have adopted a system of inspection similar to our own and as a result of this work, we received returns for 32 head of Montana strays found and sold across the line.

The high price of stock cattle and young steers has been maintained through the past year and as a result there have probably been fewer cattle put in on the ranges than if prices had been more reasonable for this class of stock. As it was about 78,000 head of cattle were brought into the state and turned on the ranges, three hundred and seventy-six of these being fine breeding stock. There is a growing tendency to import fine stock for breeding purposes so that the quality of Montana livestock is constantly improving both among the ranch and range cattle.

The horse market during the past year has continued as good or better than during the preceding year, and as a result horse shipments were heavier during 1901, than in any previous year in the history of the state. The agents of the English government have bought a large number of horses in this state, the average price paid being a very satisfactory one. The total shipments of horses were 84,000 head, most of which were marketed at Chicago, St. Paul, Sioux City and Omaha while a not inconsiderable number were shipped into adjoining states and there peddled out amongst the farming element. Our inspectors recovered 51 head of stray horses in the past year returns for which were made to the respective owners. The law relating to the inspection of horses prior to shipment was amended by the last legislature so as to make its provisions still more stringent and it is believed that very few horses have been taken out of the state without inspection. About one thousand head of horses were shipped into Montana from the west.

The law relative to the inspection of horses does not yet work altogether satisfactorily and some further amendments will be made to it, if possible, to afford still greater protection to horse owners.

We append hereto a statement of the inspection work of the Board since its organization:—

The Montana Stock Growers' Association continues to render very appreciable support to this Board in its work of protection for the stock interests and we can speak only in commendation of the loyalty of that organization to our Board and its officers in the discharge of their duties. This Association has ever been a strong support, both morally and financially, since the commencement of this protective system.

The rules relative to the recording and use of marks and brands remain the same as heretofore, while the rapid development and settlement of the state is the occasion for a decided increase in the number of applicants for brands, so that it is difficult to comply promptly with all requests of this nature. Many stockmen desirous of obtaining and making use of brands are acting on our suggestion in former reports, and are purchasing old brands which have fallen into disuse, thus acquiring better and more desirable brands and at the same time removing brands from the obsolete list.

The work of the United States Weather Bureau meets with the hearty approval of stockmen generally, and their reports afford much satisfaction particularly during the winter season.

The annual report of the State Veterinary Surgeon is included in this report as an appendix and contains detailed information as to the live stock sanitary conditions. Dr. Knowles' services as state veterinarian have been eminently satisfactory.

We incorporate herewith a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund as shown by the statement of the State Treasurer, but we do not include the itemized statement of expenditures as this is published in the report of the State Auditor:

Report of the State Veterinary Surgeon.

Helena, Montana, October 1, 1901.

To the Honorable Live Stock Commission of the State of Montana:

Gentlemen:—I have the honor herewith to submit my report of the work accomplished by this office for the year ending September 30th, 1901. There has been a notable increase in the business of the veterinarian's office over any of the former years of my incumbency. During the year, 187 calls were answered against 161 during the year 1900, and the correspondence of the office has materially increased, particularly in relation to black-leg among calves and in giving information relative to anthrax among cattle, which disease has been in existence during the year in British Columbia north and the states of South Dakota and Nebraska south and east of us. I am pleased to say that anthrax has never made its appearance in our state, and I hope that it never may. The caution exercised by the majority of live stock owners throughout Montana has been responsible for a number of calls to investigate reported infectious diseases of various animals that were found to be unnecessary and the alarm occasioning the call due to trivial cause without any indication of infectious disease. This, however, shows a commendable spirit and is an indication that our live stock owners are more than anxious to assist in the discovery and suppression of any infectious or contagious animal disease.

GLANDERS.

During the year, 101 head of horses suffering from glanders were destroyed, 60 of which were railroad contractors horses coming from other states, so that actually on 41 Montana horses were destroyed for glanders during the year. I believe that I can safely say that glanders among native Montana horses is on the decrease. I was recently informed by one of the horse buyers for the English Government, who has during the past year purchased about 12,000 Montana horses, that out of the entire number all of which were tested for glanders with mallein, only three reacted, this making one to 4,000 of the horses purchased for the British Army or .004 per cent. I beg to submit that this is an extremely good showing and a fair indication of the healthfulness of our native horses.

TUBERCULOSIS.

There were but 54 cattle tested with tuberculin during the year, only one responding to the test. There were, however, six well marked cases destroyed during the year for tuberculosis. There were sent to this office 376 helth certificates for breeding cattle imported into Montana accompanied by tuberculin test charts. There is practically such a small percentage of tuberculosis among cattle in Montana that our state may be said to be nearly free from this most dreaded of all cattle diseases. This disease is of so much importance, however, to the cattle interests of the world and particularly of our own country, that I have deemed it expedient in this report to reprint an article on tuberculosis of cattle written by special request for the State of Pennsylvania by Prof. B. Bang, probably the greatest living authority on tuberculosi, a man who has had a very wide experience with this disease extending over a number of years and whose judgment without a question is sound. Prof. Bang is a member of the Faculty of the Veterinary College of Denmark located in Copenhagen, and is the chief veterinarian of his country. I desire to call particular attention to this article and request that all our cattle men read it carefully.

BLACKLEG.

Vaccination against blackleg is becoming more and more popular every year. During the past year 11,165 doses of vaccine were ordered from the Department of Agriculture through this office, these orders being only requested through this office when the vaccine is urgently needed. There has been distributed by the Department of Agriculture during the past year throughout the state of Montana over 100,000 doses, in addition to which much vaccine is still purchased in small quantities by many of our small cattle owners. I would advise the use among better grades of cattle and where the holdings are small, under pasture conditions the employment of double vaccine which gives a much higher degree of immunity and will well compensate the owner for the extra labor.

Arrangements have been perfected with the Department of Agriculture by which a supply of the Government vaccine will be kept in my office for distribution to the cattle growers of Montana. This will prove a great saving in time to our cattle owners desiring to secure vaccine quickly. Therefore, from now on any orders by telegraph or mail will be promptly filled from this office.

DIRECTIONS FOR VACCINATION.

As all our stockmen do not yet seem to be familiar with the method of vaccinating against blackleg, I will insert herein full directions for this procedure. Absolute cleanliness is urgently necessary throughout this entire procedure.

HOW TO STERILIZE THE UTENSILS.

First, sufficient water to be used in preparing the vaccine should be boiled in an absolutely clean vessel for at least 35 minutes. This should be done preferably in a vessel having a cover. After the boiling is completed, this water should be set some place where it will slowly cool off before being used. All the utensils used in the operation of preparing or using the vaccine must be thoroughly sterilized by boiling the mortar, pestil, measuring glass and bottle for containing vaccine after being prepared; together with the syringe and needles. All these utensils should be placed in a pan of luke-warm water and then be boiled for not less than 20 minutes, when the vessel with its contents should be allowed to cool off until it can be handled. After the vaccine has been prepared, the soiled vessels, syringe and needles must again be sterilized before being placed away in the receptacle, for use the following year; always replacing the wires in the needles.

For vaccination the following articles are necessary: an anti-toxin syringe, preferably a 12 c. c. one with a number of extra needles, as it will be found that the needles are occasionally broken and if the operator is not provided with several extra ones, he will be placed in an embarrassing position and frequently lose a large amount of prepared vaccine. In addition to the syringe and needles, a small mortar and pestil, small glass funnel, and for vaccine that requires it, a package of absorbant cotton to use for filtering; (a small pledget of absorbent cotton being much preferable to the ordinary filtering paper), an open mouthed bottle with a glass stopper large enough to admit the antitoxin syringe, and, of course, the size of the bottle for containing the vaccine must depend on the number of calves to be vaccinated. A sufficient quantity of water should be boiled for at least 35 minutes as is described above and allowed to cool. The Government packages of vaccine contain either 10 or 25 doses. After emptying out the contents of the package of vaccine into the mortar, you can very conveniently measure the doses of water to be mixed with the vaccine with the 12 c. c. syringe, putting into the mortar with the vaccine as many c. c. as there are doses of vaccine to be made. First, after drawing up the sterilized water in the syringe, simply add enough out of the first syringeful to wet the vaccine thoroughly and then with the pestil, grind and mix the moistened vaccine, gradually adding the water from the syringe until the doses of water are thoroughly mixed with the vaccine matter. I don't regard it as necessary to filter the Government vaccine after it is thoroughly mixed. However, without it is most thoroughly ground with a small quantity of water at first, so as to completely pulverize all the small particles of vaccine matter, it would probably be well to filter it. If the vaccine is not to be used immediately, place it in a cool place until you desire to use it, but under no circumstances should vaccine be prepared longer than 4 or 5 hours before it is used.

HOW TO VACCINATE.

When ready to employ the vaccine, thoroughly shake the bottle containing the prepared vaccine so that all the small particles of vaccine matter will be thoroughly mixed with the water, then draw the syringe full of vaccine, turn the point of the needle straight up and gently press up the piston until all air is excluded. Now screw the control tap down to the graduation marked one, and after injecting the first dose, successively screw the control tap back to each dose, this control tap being placed on the piston for the purpose of avoiding the administration of more than an exact dose at each injection.

Shake the syringe frequently before each injection so that the vaccine matter will be thoroughly mixed in the water.

Never prepare more vaccine at one time than can be used during the same day.

The most satisfactory point for vaccination is the tail or the side of the neck just in front of the shoulder.

When vaccinating in the neck, always vaccinate every animal on the same side.

Keep the joints of your syringe screwed tightly.

See that the needle is always screwed on tightly, and on withdrawing the needle, press you thumb over the aperture in the skin to prevent any vaccine from escaping.

OTHER POINTS TO REMEMBER.

1. Observe strict cleanliness in everything connected with vaccinating.
2. Boil outfit thoroughly.
3. Only add sufficient water to powdered vaccine to wet it, then grind thoroughly with the pestil for at least five minutes.
4. Immediately after vaccine is ground and mixed with proper measurement of water, pour into the bottles.
5. If syringe piston works hard, place a few drops of glycerine in the barrel.

CATTLE SCAB.

There has been but few cases of cattle scab showing throughout the northern part of the state during the year. In Valley County about 12,000 were dipped during July, no cases being reported since.

I am informed that scab among cattle is very prevalent throughout all the southwestern states, and that at this time vats are being constructed in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico for the treatment of this disease.

INFLUENZA AMONG HORSES.

Influenza has prevailed to some considerable extent throughout the state during the latter part of the summer and is still prevailing at this time. However, it is a very benign form requiring no further treatment than good care and rest for a few days. The only fatalities that have occurred to my knowledge are those where the animals have been worked severely throughout the disease.

HOG CHOLERA.

There have been no reports of Hog Cholera during the year.

I herewith append a report on a very interesting disease investigated by my deputy, Dr. Stewart W. McClure, during last summer. Unfortunately no material was taken for microscopic examination, but there can be little doubt of this trouble being due to some one of the dermatomy cases.

Respectfully submitted,

M. E. KNOWLES,

State Veterinarian.

ULCERATIVE DERMO STOMITITIS OF CATTLE.

Ulcerative Dermo Stomititis has been reported during the past year from the vicinity of Billings, Custer and Harlem. In the localities mentioned, possibly 100 have been affected. The losses from this disease as far as can be learned is between one and two per cent. The animal recovers very rapidly when treated; and if not treated, death is generally due to starvation. When not treated, the recovery is very slow, the animal becoming much emaciated.

SYMPTOMS.

The animal is unable to masticate its food and becomes very stiff or lame. In about three days after being first noticed the affected animal moves very reluctantly and stands with its four feet together arching the back. In two or three days the animal assumes a recumbent position and can be made to rise only after repeated efforts. On examination, the stiffness is found to be due to ulceration of the cleft of the hoofs and the soft tissue around the coronary band. This condition may involve one or all of the feet. On examination of the mouth, you find that the failure to eat is due to ulceration of the mucous membranes. The lips are much tumefied and somewhat hardened, the lesion on the gums first appear as small vesicles or blisters, which after breaking, leave a deep seated grayish ragged edged ulcer. These ulcers may extend over the surface of both lips and also may involve the point of the tongue. There is generally a discharge from both nostrils, also from the eyes, due to a conjunctivitis and a slight cough may be noticed. In some cases we notice a circumscribed inflammation of the skin, this generally occurring on the neck, the skin becoming very dry and peeling off after a few days. The temperature is but slightly elevated, being about 102 F. The disease generally occurs during hot weather when the feed is very short. It is probably due to a fungi obtained with the food. The animals recover very rapidly when placed on soft feed or green alfalfa; but if left alone, become very much emaciated, some few starving to death. There is generally some constipation present.

TREATMENT.

It is well to administer a laxative such as one pound sodium sulphate. The ulceration of the foot and mouth should be treated with a two per cent solution of carbolic acid. The principal thing is the removal of the animal from the pasture wherein he became affected, to one where soft green food may be obtained.

TUBERCULOSIS OF CATTLE.

By Prof. B. Bang, Copenhagen, Denmark.

I have been asked to write for publication in Pennsylvania, a paper discussing some points concerning tuberculosis of cattle on which, I am told, it is useful to enlighten the live stock owners of that state. It was thought that the experience I have gained from my long occupation with these questions, might perhaps contribute to a closer understanding of tuberculosis of cattle, and the means to combat it.

In trying to fulfill this wish, I think it best to keep close to the following subjects:

1. The desirability of having herds freed from tuberculosis.
2. The transmission of tuberculosis between cattle stabled and herded together.

3. The value of good sanitary conditions, light, cleanliness, ventilation, etc.

4. The effect of tuberculin on healthy cattle.

5. The propagation of tuberculosis among swine, calves, other animals and people, through the milk.

6. The accuracy of the tuberculin test.

7. The success of the work directed against tuberculosis of cattle in Denmark, and the favorable manner in which these operations are accepted by the owners of live stock.

8. The advantages which will accrue from the suppression of tuberculosis among cattle.

I. AS TO THE DESIRABILITY OF HAVING HERDS FREED FROM TUBERCULOSIS.

At first this question may seem a superfluous one, but on further reflection its importance is plain. It is clear that the stock owner who loses one or several cows from consumption, or sees the animals emaciate instead of fatten, needs no explanation as to the desirability of being freed from a scourge which causes such evident losses. But the fact is, that tuberculosis can exist, can even have gained a considerable extension in a herd and yet for a long time the owner may have very little notion of this calamity. Tuberculosis, unlike anthrax, which causes every individual attacked to be violently diseased and usually causes death in the course of a few days, is a very insidious illness that begins quite imperceptibly and will often for a long time keep completely hidden. This latent character of the illness is indeed no exception, it is on the contrary the rule. By tuberculin tests you will sometimes see three-fourths or almost all the animals of a herd reacting, thus revealing themselves to be infected with tuberculosis, though they are looking quite sound. I even know cases, where the owner of such stock maintains never to have perceived the least traces of the disease. Now such a man might doubt whether it be worth while to make sacrifices to get rid of a disease which apparently does so little harm. Of course such cases are rare where no disease at all has been detected in infected herds, usually some cow or other will be unthrifty or thin, but most farmers are accustomed to have misfortune occasionally, and if this does not happen too often it will not annoy them seriously.

It is this insidious progress which explains why tuberculosis has in most countries attained such an enormous extension. It does not excite immediate attention. In all countries in which it has been possible to follow the history of the disease, and to ascertain with some accuracy the date and ways of its introduction, as for instance Denmark, Sweden and Finland, you will find that at first it has not caused great trouble, and that years have passed before much has been spoken of it, and the same thing happens in every herd into which it is nowadays introduced. But gradually the losses sum up, and it develops into a positive scourge. And in many infected herds the losses will occasionally be very great. Sometimes it is not easy to see what has made the disease progress rapidly in so many infected animals, sometimes the cause may easily be found. Thus an acute contagious disease will sometimes be followed by a rapid development of tuberculosis in infected cattle. I know a large farm with about 200 head of cattle in Denmark, where tuberculosis was known, but had never appeared to be of a malign character; in 1893 the herd was infected with foot and mouth disease, and after this tuberculosis made such such progress that in the course of the following years the owner had to slaughter about 50 head of cattle, part of which were in a very reduced state.

Thus it will be evident to the intelligent farmer that he must at some time free his herd from a disease continually menacing him with great losses. If he has not himself suffered from the scourge of tuberculosis, he will know neighbors who have suffered severely from it, and he must consider that the same fate may be his. Another circumstance of more recent date will arouse his attention. Since it has been ascertained that consumption in man depends on the same cause as tuberculosis in cattle, a fear has arisen in all countries that this disease so fatal to man, which in most countries causes one-seventh, in some places even one-fourth of all deaths, may have one of its sources in animal tuberculosis. Nor is this fear without foundation, although it is often exaggerated. Even if the farmer does not care to subdue tuberculosis on account of the losses caused by the sickness and death of his cows, he will be obliged to take an interest in this matter on perceiving the difficulty of selling the milk or the meat derived from cattle more or less tubercular.

2. AS TO THE TRANSMISSION OF TUBERCULOSIS BETWEEN CATTLE STABLED AND HERDED TOGETHER.

It is quite impossible for an animal to get tuberculosis without the tubercle bacillus being admitted into its body. These are pure parasites which do not develop outside of the animal body. From a tubercular animal they can be exercised in different ways, by expectoration, with the manure and urine, with the milk, with discharge from the genital organs, etc.; and when they have left the body which has housed them, they can keep alive for rather a long time, though rarely more than half a year, and infect another animal or man by being admitted to his body. It is only under special laboratory conditions that the tubercle bacillus can be brought to propagate itself outside of the body, and thus we are sure to be right in maintaining that all the tubercle bacilli which we encounter on our way must have been excreted by a sick animal or a sick man. They are, therefore, not found everywhere, but only where tubercular animals or men are living or have lived recently. Hence, the danger of becoming infected with them is far greater in closed places (rooms or stables) than in open fields, where the germs are diffused so that only a few occur in a given place, and where they will, comparatively, soon be destroyed by natural influence, especially the sunlight. The smaller, darker and closer the room is, the greater the probability that sound individuals will be infected. That it must be so we may know before hand and that it is so experience teaches us, as regards both men and animals. That tubercle bacilli are not found everywhere is clearly shown from the fact that in countries where tuberculosis is common, many herds will be found completely exempt. This is proven not only by the fact that the owner has never perceived any trace of it, but the tuberculin test shows that not a single animal reacts. I ascertained some years ago in Denmark that more than one-fifth of the examined herds prove to be quite free from tuberculosis, and afterwards the same thing was observed in many other countries, as, for instance, in Pennsylvania. And in Denmark, at least many of these herds are comparatively large, embracing 40 to 50 individuals. These are almost always herds which have been bred and reared on the farm and to which, for many years, no new animals have been introduced. I have shown that some of these herds were made up of cows in which the milk yield is developed to the highest degree, so that according to old views, the animals must be supposed to be highly predisposed to tuberculosis, but no contagion has been introduced, and accordingly there was no disease.

Thus it is contagion on which everything depends and contagion occurs chiefly by association in the stable with tubercular animals excreting tubercle bacilli. Of course there are other ways by which it may be transmitted and of these feeding with tuberculous food, especially with infected milk, is the chief one. Also, copulation may sometimes transmit contagion when tuberculous affection combined with the discharge are found in the genital organs. Tuberculosis may also be transmitted from the mother to the foetus through the placenta (perhaps also from the male animal to the egg), but congenial tuberculosis is comparatively rare.

Yet this form contagion is not quite so rare in cattle as many, for instance Nocard, consider it to be. I have especially directed my attention to this question, and in the course of eight years, mostly by the help of several veterinary surgeons, at slaughter houses, have been able to gather not less than 85 cases of congenital tuberculosis, partly in foeti, and these cases were the most common in new-born calves.* But the tubercle bacilli can only be transmitted from the mother to the foetus through the blood, if the uterus of the mother be not affected by tuberculosis—and, therefore, foetal tuberculosis is only found in calves whose mothers are highly tubercular, as only such individuals have tubercle bacilli in their blood. Cows that have only local tuberculosis (for instance of lungs, bronchial or mesenteric glands) cannot contaminate their foeti. Thus the great majority of tubercular animals will bear sound calves. It is precisely on this fact that I have founded my system of combatting tuberculosis—which purposes to raise calves born by sound looking cows, even if the tuberculin test has proved these to be already infected with the disease, but to remove the calves from the mother's stable as soon as born, place them in a locality free from contagion and give them boiled milk or milk from absolutely sound animals.

* These tuberculous deposits are as a rule very small and calcified. They are to be found in the liver, especially, in the portal glands. Generally you will also find some deposits in the mediastinal and bronchial glands, sometimes also in the lungs, the spleen and other organs.

On the basis of my experience I believe I may say, that congenital tuberculosis will not be even found in one-half per cent of the calves of a tuberculous herd.

Contagion through infected milk plays a very large part, and according to my experience, is the essential cause of tuberculosis in young calves, but this cause will only work the first year at most. After that time the calves, at least in Denmark, get no milk. And as tuberculosis is a disease the frequency of which increases largely with age, it is clear that we cannot accuse milk of being its chief cause. It is evident that year by year that cattle pick up contagion with more and more frequency, and the chief source must be the tubercle bacilli disseminated in the stable by other tubercular cattle. In itself it is of no great consequence whether we suppose the tubercle bacilli to be chiefly admitted through the digestive organs or the respiratory organs. Both ways are possible. The food and the water may be infected by expectoration and discharge from the nose or by bacilli attached to particles of dust or the cow may lick objects (walls, cribs) which are contaminated with evacuations containing bacilli, or inhale tubercle bacilli attached to particles of dust. As showing the first method of transmission it is often noticed that a newly bought sound cow will strikingly often become affected with the disease when it is put in a place occupied shortly before by a badly tubercular cow (if the place has not been thoroughly disinfected), and also that the disease very often passes to the nearest neighbor of a sick beast. But contagion through the air, no doubt, also plays an important part. The great frequency with which tuberculosis is found only in the lungs and the bronchial glands, speaks strongly for contagion through inhalation. My experience also points strongly in the same direction, for many and many a time I have observed that transmission is not avoided by placing the sound animals in one end or one side of the stable, while the tubercular cattle are placed at some distance from them and are without any direct communication with them. If you will avoid the dangers accompanying association in the stable, the sound animals must be entirely removed from the diseased ones and placed by themselves.

In pastures the danger of contagion will be far less than in the stable, especially when the cattle are tethered, as is the case in Denmark. When the cows are not tethered they may of course communicate the infection by licking each other or by drinking from the same receptacle, I know some places where tuberculosis seems to have been caught on the pasture; so when sound and reacting animals are on the same farm they ought to be kept in different fields.

3. AS TO THE VALUE OF GOOD SANITARY CONDITIONS, LIGHT, CLEANLINESS, VENTILATION, ETC.

On this point I can be brief, referring to what Dr. Leonard Pearson has written in the second annual report of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The importance of cleanliness in the stable is easily to be understood. If animals excreting tubercle bacilli with the foeces or with discharges from nose, mouth, vagina, etc., are found in the stable, it is clear that the danger of contagion is very much diminished, when these things are quickly removed and are not allowed time to dry into dust. The better the ventilation, the less the number of germs floating in the air and the less probability of their infecting a sound animal. It has also been proved that the danger of development of disease is greater when many bacilli than when few are admitted to the organism. The light of the sun is the most efficient natural means of disinfection, and a light stable will more easily be kept clean, for the dirt will be noticed.

But fresh air, light and good food, i. e., good sanitary conditions, are also of the greatest importance in giving animals as well as man resisting powers against the germs of disease admitted to the body. They cannot exactly prevent the animal from being infected, but the better the sanitary conditions are, the greater the probability that the animal will be able to confine the tuberculosis to the first organs infected of their lymphatic glands, where the bacilli have entered, arriving thus at the result, which is luckily not uncommon that for a long time—perhaps for many years—the tuberculosis will remain an insignificant affection which does not prevent the cow from giving sound milk, sound meat and sound calves.

4. AS TO THE EFFECT OF TUBERCULIN IN HEALTHY CATTLE.

Tuberculin is a preparation which cannot contain living bacilli. To be sure it is made of beef tea in which the bacilli have been grown, but the culture has been subjected to prolonged heating at 115 degrees C., which absolutely kills the bacilli and, next, the dead bacilli are removed by filtration. Thus it is evident that the injection of tuberculin cannot call forth the disease in sound cattle. A fear has been expressed that tuberculin might give rise to an acute blazing up of tuberculosis in tubercular animals, thus causing animals which had before appeared comparatively sound to become seriously affected by the development of an acute military tuberculosis, as was at one time supposed to be of frequent occurrence in human tuberculosis. But I can prove that as to cattle this at most happens very seldom.

In Denmark we have several large herds in which 100 to to 200 cattle—in one even 350—reacted two to four years ago. These reacting animals have been allowed to live, they have, however, been separated from the sound cattle, and it is evident that in these reacting sections the disease has not progressed at a more rapid rate since the test than before. Several owners even maintain that it has progressed less rapidly. Of course, in such a herd the disease will naturally reach an advanced development in some individuals, but this would have happened even if no tuberculin test had been made. Only a few farmers mention that they have the impression that the disease has made great progress in an occasional individual some time after the test; but such single observations may depend upon accidental coincidence, it is absolutely not the common rule. If it has happened frequently it would, of course, have awakened the attention of the farmers, and it is quite impossible that tuberculin could have been used in always greater measure year after year if the test had frequently been followed by aggravation of pre-existing disease.

5. AS TO THE PROPAGATION OF TUBERCULOSIS
AMONG SWINE, CALVES, OTHER ANIMALS AND PEOPLE THROUGH THE USE OF MILK.

That the milk of the tubercular cows is liable to propagate tuberculosis to calves, swine and other animals, is an observation I have often made. Several years ago I reported that by the autopsy of 34 milk fed calves reacting by the test of two large herds, I found that in 24 of them the disease was evidently due to infection through the food. In these cases, tuberculosis was found only in the lymphatic glands of the throat of mesentery, in the walls of the intestinal canal or, at least in these places it was of the oldest date. And since that time I have made numerous similar observations. In Denmark, the swine are almost always fed with skim milk, buttermilk and then in addition to grain, and formerly it was often noticed that when these milk foods were given raw (unboiled or insufficiently pasteurized) the swine almost always suffered from tuberculosis, where this disease was very prevalent among cows. The oldest centres of tuberculosis were here to be found in the lymphatic glands in the neighborhood of the throat.* In Denmark, milk is often given to young horses or to sick horses, and in those parts of the country where this custom is frequent, tuberculosis is not rare in the horse. This animal, when infected with tuberculosis, always has tuberculosis of the digestive tract. A few ulcers are found in the small intestines and enormous tuberculous infiltration in the mesenteric glands, sometimes also in the lymphatic glands of the throat. The disease gradually spreads with the blood, but it is easy to see, especially in the lungs, that these other formations are secondary. To cats and dogs the disease is also sometimes transmitted through the milk; nor can there be any doubt, that by this means it is not infrequently transmitted to man, especially to little children.

In Denmark we have a peculiar system which throws a clear

* Since attention has been directed to this danger, tuberculosis in swine has greatly diminished in my country.

light upon the importance of milk as a source of contagion. From almost all smaller farms the milk is daily sent to common creameries where butter is made. Cheese is sometimes made of the skim milk, but the greater part of it is sent back to the farm, where it is used as food for calves and swine. Of course the various farms do not get their own milk, but part of the mixed supply. Now, if among the farms furnishing milk for the creamery some are found whose cows are greatly tubercular, tubercle bacilli may be brought with the skimmed milk to a sound herd and formerly this happened frequently. By tuberculin tests it has in some cases been found that all the adult cattle were sound, while some calves reacted, quite the reverse of the usual case, which is that the disease prevails to a greater extent in old animals than in young ones. This is undoubtedly the consequence of contagion through the milk. In many cases, indeed, it has been shown that the disease is found only in animals that have consumed milk at a time when the apparatus for pasteurizing did not work properly. Nowadays, as a rule, the danger in question is avoided by the skim milk being heated to a high degree before leaving the dairy.

Is then all milk of tubercular cows virulent? By no means. Luckily this is only an exception, but no rare one. The greatest danger, as is well known, is attached to the milk from a tubercular udder, and this ailment is a very dangerous source of tuberculosis for man, because at the beginning of the disease the tubercular udder—often even almost a month after the appearance of a hard tumor—secretes milk of almost natural appearance, which people will often be tempted to use. But, also, when no tuberculous deposits can be pointed out in the udder, the milk may contain tubercle bacilli if the cow suffers from advanced generalized tuberculosis, so that tubercle bacilli now and then circulate in the blood. I have previously reported experiments I made by inoculating rabbits and guinea-pigs with milk from 63 highly tubercular cows with apparently sound udders, which showed that nine of these animals secreted virulent milk. As long as the cow has only a limited tuberculosis—as is luckily the case with the majority of reacting animals—it will not secrete tubercle bacilli with the milk. But in a large herd of tuberculous cows it will probably almost always be found that some one secretes virulent milk on account of having either tuberculosis in the udder or generalized tuberculosis.

The danger of contagion through the milk can always be avoided by boiling it or heating it to 185 degrees F., even the influence of a somewhat lower temperature—167 degrees F. to 176 F.—will diminish the danger very much, as I have found that so far as rabbits are concerned, milk heated to these degrees could infect by injection into the abdominal cavity, but not by feeding. We therefore in Denmark always recommend either boiling or heating to 185 degrees F., if the milk is to be given to calves, and we are not sure that it is derived from entirely sound cows. Experience shows that the more carefully this heating is performed, the greater security against the propagation of tuberculosis to these animals and to horses, swine, etc. Each year this is performed in a better manner. At present a bill is before our parliament to prohibit all creameries from returning skim milk and buttermilk that has not been heated to 185 degrees F. It is also proposed that cows with tuberculosis of the udder are to be killed and the owners receive compensation from the state.

Little children usually get boiled milk in Denmark and in Copenhagen, and in several other towns are concerns selling milk that has been heated to exactly 185 degrees F. When such milk is immediately cooled by ice, it does not get the cooked taste, to which many people are so averse.

Like skim milk, buttermilk and whey, the butter too many contain tubercle bacilli. Luckily this happens less frequently at least when, as in Denmark, it is made of cream which has been separated from the milk by centrifugation, as most tubercle bacilli are thereby thrown out of the milk.*. Excellent butter can be made of cream heated to 185 degrees F. or even to a higher point.

6. AS TO THE ACCURACY OF THE TUBERCULIN TEST.

The introduction of tuberculin marks a most remarkable advance in the diagnosis of tuberculosis, as it enables us to dis-

* And every possibility of danger can easily be avoided by pasteurizing the cream before churning, as now-a-days is done almost everywhere in Denmark.

cover the presence of the disease in the earliest stages, and in very slightly developed ones. But it has three essential disadvantages. In the first place the violence of reaction has no constant relation to the development of the disease. Farmers often believe the cow reacting violently to be extremely tubercular and the one reacting feebly to be comparatively sound. The case is rather the reverse, but this is not constant either. Next, tuberculin is not absolutely to be relied upon. To be sure you will very seldom be mistaken in the conclusion that a cow, which has shown an evident reaction, is indeed tubercular. I, for my part, know only three or four cases in which I could find no tuberculous deposits in such an animal, and in these cases the fault may be mine and not that of tuberculin, as it is impossible to examine every part of the body of a slaughtered animal. The tubercles may have been hidden in an unusual place, or they may have been so small or so fresh, that they could not be discovered. This case then is a very rare one, though the unskilled observer, for instance, the butcher, may believe it to be a frequent one. Moreover, it must be considered that it would not be a disaster even if a sound animal should for once be considered tubercular. Far more frequent is the case that an animal which has not reacted, is proved by slaughtering to suffer from tuberculosis. But usually this has not the practical importance one would suppose it to have, as in the great majority of cases the deposits in question are very small, very old or greatly calcified, indicating that the process has become stationary. Experience teaches that such small deposits usually keep quite unchanged for a series of years, and may even at length be healed. In fact, animals which have this form of tuberculosis will be quite harmless to their associates as they do not excrete tubercle bacilli. But there are also cases in which an animal suffering from far advanced and very contagious tuberculosis does not react to tuberculin. This is a very provoking fact; luckily, however, it happens but seldom, and we must be taught by it not to rely on tuberculin alone, but to have recourse to clinical examination which will usually enable us to detect tuberculosis in such advanced forms. In the third case, tuberculin has the imperfection that reiterated reactions will not rarely call forth a temporary insusceptibility to the substance so that tubercular animals will at length cease reacting to a new injection. This circumstance may occasion fraud in dealing in cattle, but as the fact is very inconsistent the imposture will by no means always be successful.

Insusceptibility to tuberculin is most apt to follow the repetition of the test at short intervals, but it may also be seen when a whole year has elapsed between tests. In these latter cases according to experience, the disease will almost always be insignificant. Nevertheless, when—as in Denmark—tuberculin is employed in order to divide a herd in two sections, one sound and one reacting, the latter should not be tested more than once, that uncertainty may not be created by the failure of the reaction in some animals upon renewed tests. Such animals ought to remain in the section to which they have originally been conveyed, or even if most of them are not dangerous at the time, you cannot be certain that the small latent tuberculosis may not blaze up.

But the imperfections of tuberculin mentioned here are eclipsed by its good qualities. According to my experience which is founded on a very great number of autopsies, it is in 10 per cent. of the cases at most that tuberculin will be at fault (the immunity after reiterated reactions not taken into consideration), and it is only in a very small percentage of these cases that the fault will be of consequence. Tuberculin, therefore, in spite of its imperfections, marks an immense advance in the diagnosis of tuberculosis. By its help we are able to discover a great number of cases of tuberculosis, which were formerly absolutely concealed. Until something still better has been found, we must consider it to be our best weapon in the struggle against tuberculosis of cattle.

7. AS TO THE SUCCESS OF THE WORK DIRECTED AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS IN DENMARK AND THE FAVORABLE MANNER IN WHICH THESE OPERATIONS ARE AC-CEPTED BY THE OWNERS OF LIVE STOCK.

That owners of live stock in Denmark have been very willing to make use of tuberculin is clearly proved by the great number of tested animals. In April, 1893, an act was passed placing 50,000 kroner per annum (about $12,000)* at the disposal of the government in order to make it possible to distribute free tuberculin and pay the veterinary surgeons for making the tests (injections and measuring of temperature) on the herds of owners who promised to employ the remedy in a rational manner, that is, who promised to separate the animals not reacting from those reacting or not tested. Quite exact statistics as to the number of animals which were under this provision in each of the following years cannot be given, but on calculation from the quantity of tuberculin which has been sent out to the veterinary surgeons, there have been injected about:

In the fiscal year—

	Young Cattle.	Adult Cattle.	Total
1893-4 about	4,800	450	5,250
1894-5 about	11,000	6,800	17,800
1895-6 about	32,200	33,000	65,200
1896-7 about	49,000	44,000	93,000

Up to the summer of 1897, I had received reports of test of 158,911 animals in 5,733 herds, and since that time many injections have been made. Denmark has about the same number of cattle as Pennsylvania, about 1,700,000 cattle of all kinds, including about 1,000,000 milch cows. We can estimate that from 8 to 9 per cent. of the cattle have been tested in the last years. Now if it is asked whether all the stock owners who have had their cattle tested at the cost of the state have fulfilled the promises given as to the separation of sound from reacting animals, the answer must be: No, not all; but most of them have tried to do it as well as circumstances would allow. As the test is given freely, no matter whether evident traces of tuberculosis have been observed in the herd or not, many herds have been tested in which all animals were proved to be sound. This applies to 22 per cent. of the tested herds. In many others, only a few animals reacted, and it has often been easy to put such animals in a separate place till they could be sold. In those cases in which almost all grown up animals reacted, while most of the young cattle were sound, it has often been possible to place the latter in a particular stable for young cattle, as such a one can easily be made if it is not previously at hand. The greatest difficulty of isolation occurs when there is both a great many diseased as well as sound adult cattle. In this case it has usually been necessary to divide the stable by a solid partition. But not infrequently the construction of the stable has been such that it was necessary to have doors in the partition to allow feeding or removal of the manure. This arrangement is not a good one, as there is too much opportunity for contagion even if the doors are kept shut during the time when not in use. Though the result has often proved by the renewal of the test to be a good one, even under such circumstances, I know many cases in which an imperfect separation has proved insufficient. But when the sound animals have been placed in stables which were indeed completely isolated, and especially in different buildings, the result has usually been very satisfactory. The best manner of isolation is, of course, to place the sound animals on another farm from that occupied by those which have reacted.

* Since 1896, 100,000 kroner.

The method which according to my recommendation is used in Denmark to combat the tuberculosis of cattle is very moderate. It does not aim at exterminating the evil with one blow, but strives to reduce it gradually. It takes it for granted that animals reacting to tuberculin but showing no evident clinical signs of tuberculosis, are in the majority of cases affected but to a limited extent, and that therefore it is not necessary to kill them. They may live and keep apparently healthy for years, their milk, as a rule, does not contain tubercle bacilli and by pasteurization every danger of contagion can be avoided. Their flesh also will generally be safe for food and by control of the butchering, those carcasses which might afford danger to contagion can be withdrawn. And in the immense majority of cases they will give sound calves. Thus, generally, there is no reason for killing a sound looking animal only because it has reacted, it may continue to live and be used as before, and the herd may be maintained by self-breeding. But as reacting animals there will always be some subjects in whom the disease develops so that it will become a bearer of contagion, the reacting animals must always be separated from the sound ones as thoroughly as possible. The new born calves must immediately be removed from the stable where the reacting cows are placed, and they must have boiled or pasteurized milk. The sound section ought to be tested with tuberculin at least once every year in order to enable us to remove the animals which may have got tuberculosis in spite of the separation.

As an instance of the result which may be attained by carrying through consistently the method just outlined, I shall name two farms where the separation has been brought about in a very simple manner by dividing the large common cow stable by a partition, by employing different sets of attendants for the two sections and by making the two sections use different pastures in the summer. The first of these farms is Thurebylillie, where I first introduced the system in the year 1892, the second is a farm in Jutland, where we began in 1894. On the first of these farms, the common calf stable communicates with the sound section, on the second the calves and the young cattle are placed in different buildings on the same farm. In both places, tuberculosis was at first widespread, but not very malignant, as the number of animals which had to be slaughtered as obviously diseased was not large. It will be seen that in the course of these years a large sound herd has grown up raising the calves, born partly of sound mothers, but in the first years, for the greater part, of reacting mothers. The reacting section, in the course of years, has been diminished by gradual removal so that in Thurebylillie it has been diminished from 131 to 48, on the other farm from 139 to 64, and in the course of a few years this section will quite disappear. On Thurebylillie I have been able to closely follow these isolated animals and have myself re-examined almost all of them at slaughtering. In some of them, the disease has no doubt made progress and a few have been condemned by physical examination, but most of them were capable of being used for food and in many of them, tuberculosis has proved to be very insignificant and greatly calcified, conveying the impression of having remained quite stationery for several years. Of the animals sold from the farm in Jutland, I know that they have not often caused their proprietor any loss.

Nevertheless it will be seen that in spite of the separation every year several animals have fallen by renewed test of the sound division, some years very few, some years more. So by this separation we have not succeeded in absolutely excluding from the sound section every trace of contagion from the reacting one. But this cannot be expected when the two sections are so near each other; there are too many probabilities of transmitting contagion through various vehicles (people, dogs, cats, rats, etc.) perhaps also through food, as in Danish stables the common hayloft is usually above the stable. But the progress is considerable.

On a great many other farms where this work has bene carried on for a longer or shorter time in the same manner, the result is quite similar. Where the division has been fairly good it is about the same as here, where less care has been taken or where there has been a door in the wall the result is, as a rule, not as good, but where it has been possible to place the two sections in quite different buildings or on separate farms, it is usually much better.

All things considered, I believe it to be beyond doubt that the whole movement has been a very useful one.

A precise statistic statement which could prove how great the progress has been I am not able to give, partly because my time has been too occupied to allow me to exactly revise the great mass of material. Also in the greater majority of herds the tests have been made in the last year so that the results are not yet at hand. But different preliminary summings up clearly indicate a pronounced amelioration. The increasing demand for tuberculin tests at the expense of the state also indicates that the farmers are on the whole satisfied with the results which they see.

We are then progressing, but still we are far from the end, and though the mild method applied here had undoubtedly proved to be of good use, I will by no means maintain that more could not and ought not to be done. I have already mentioned that at present it is planned to require by law the heating of all skim milk and buttermilk in creameries, and the killing of all cows with tuberculosis of the udder. But I am also endeavoring to provide for the awarding of some sort of premium on a prompt examination of cattle infected with tuberculosis of a contagious character as well as with tuberculosis of the udder that is, tuberculosis of the uterus, of the intestines and advanced tuberculosis of the lungs. The plan is to provide for a partial compensation to be given for such animals, for instance, one-fourth of the value of the flesh, if the flesh can be used, three-quarters of it is unfit for use. For the present, this compensation only to be given to such owners as combat tuberculosis by rational applications of tuberculin in their herds (after the methods described.) If it is possible, at present, to carry through such a motion is doubtful, but I consider the step to be absolutely in the right direction, as the chief point is to induce the proprietor to part with these animals that are the greatest sources of the continued spreading of the disease. Fortunately, the knowledge of this matter has already penetrated so far that the number of such animals has considerably decreased on Danish farms.

8. AS TO THE ADVANTAGES WHICH WILL ACCRUE FROM THE SUPPRESSION OF TUBERCULOSIS AMONG CATTLE.

On this point I can be very short. Though there cannot be laid stress enough on the fact that tuberculosis in cattle is often a very innocent disease which does not menace the life of the animal or diminish the worth of its products, and that there is no cause to be too much frightened by the results given in almost all countries by the application of tuberculin on a large scale, that shows the disease to have spread far wider than any one would formerly have believed; yet on the other hand, it is quite evident that tuberculosis is one of those scourges which cause the greatest harm to the farmer. The number of animals that perish by it or have to be slaughtered in bad condition is so great that a regard for his own economic interest should alone suffice to strongly interest the farmer in rooting out this scourge. The growing claims which in view of the hygiene of man are almost everywhere put to the soundness of meat, milk and milk produce, render this still more necessary for him. No doubt these claims may sometimes be exaggerated, especially regarding the meat, but the movement exists and the farmer, like every other manufacturer must have an open ear to the claims of the time. And the augmented confidence in the soundness of its animal products which must follow earnest efforts to combat tuberculosis of the cattle, cannot fail to be advantageous to every country.

old claims have been cleared up and a large cash balance accumulated for the payment of current claims. This will doubtless tend to stimulate hunters and trappers in the extermination of the wolves, inasmuch as a cash bounty is a great incentive,—and we believe there is little desire on the part of stockmen for any change in the present law.

There has been a continual increase in the applications for brands, and while every effort is made to supply each applicant with a brand, yet owing to the large number already on the records, it is becoming more and more difficult to find brands available for record; there are numbers of brands that have fallen into disuse but which still stand recorded for the original owners and encouragement is given applicants to secure assignments of these old brands, which are superior to those that can now be recorded. There has been no change in the rules governing the use of brands.

The efficient service maintained by the United States weather bureau affords much satisfaction to stockmen and is highly appreciated.

The annual report of State Veterinarian, M. E. Knowles, is hereto appended and covers fully the sanitary conditions of live stock. Dr. Knowles' services during the past year have been very satisfactory to the stock interests.

We incorporate a statement of the Stock Inspector and Detective Fund as shown by the State Treasurer's books, but we omit the detailed statement of disbursements as that appears in the State Auditor's report:

Report of the State Veterinary Surgeon.

Helena, Montana, Sept. 30, 1900.

To the Honorable Live Stock Commissioners of Montana,

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to herewith submit my report of the business transacted by this department for the year ending September 30, 1900.

The demands made upon this office during the past year have been greated by far than during either of the three preceding years since my incumbency, and it is believed that a wider acquaintance with the owners of live stock and their requirements has made the work of the department decidedly more efficient and practical than hitherto.

During the year 161 calls were answered to investigate a variety of epizootics. Many of these, to be sure, were found upon investigation to be of a sporadic character, not at all serious in their nature; the main diseases of importance claiming our attention being glanders among horses, tuberculosis and black leg among cattle, scab among sheep; and of a less serious nature, influenza an distemper among horses, scab and pink eye or contagious ophthalmia among cattle.

GLANDERS.

During the year 62 head of horses were destroyed on account of glanders and 295 were quarantined having been exposed to this disease.

TUBERCULOSIS.

Three hundred and eighty-one cattle were tested with tuberculin, 32 of which responded, showing unmistakable tuberculosis and were destroyed. Where practicable all such quarantined cattle were immediately released after being tested with tuberculin.

In one outbreak in Madison County the animals being range cattle, impossible to test, were therefore detained in quarantine, at this date the order still remaining in force. It is interesting to note that out of the number found suffering from the disease but two were range cattle, the remainder being under close domestication. It is also the strongest possible evidence of the necessity for more careful sanitary supervision of our cattle under close domestication. In but one case did we discover a tubercular animal shipped from another state, and this was due to the fact of our having a quarantine proclamation against the introduction of breeding cattle from other states without being accompanied by health certificate and tuberculin test. This cow had been tested by the State Veterinarian of Illinois, found tubercular and condemned. The owner spirited the cow away by night and shipped her to Redwod Falls, Minnesota, from which point she was shipped to Granite County, this state, where I discovered her on information received from the Secretary of the Live Stock Commission of Illinois. The cow was destroyed but no action was taken against the owner for the reason that at the time of notification by the Secretary of the Live Stock Commission of Illinois he was absent from this state and proved beyond question had no knowledge of the condition of the cow until his return some weeks later.

BLACK LEG.

I am pleased to inform you that vaccination against blackleg has become more and more popular during the past three years as is evidenced by the following statement of vaccine distributed by private concerns and the United States government.

	1897.	1898.	1899.	1900. (9 Mos.)
Private Concerns	20	11,500	22,100	23,000
U. S. Dept. of Agriculture	400	1,415	34,985
Total	20	11,900	23,515	57,985
Grand Total				93,420

The above figures are not entirely accurate so far as the private dealers are concerned for the reason that a considerable amount of their sales are made to jobbing houses and from these concerns distributed to dealers throughout the northwest, but this is the estimate of the private concerns and is sufficient to furnish a good idea of the growing popularity of the preventive, and also would seem to justify my efforts in agitating the idea.

among stock men immediately upon entering the office early in 1897. The fact is, that the twenty doses shipped into the state in 1897 were ordered by me personally, and from this number the use of the vaccine has increased to 57,985 for only the first nine months of the present year, or at the rate of 77,312 for the entire year. This, I submit, speaks for itself.

That all our cattle men are not as yet familiar with vaccination and its benefits is evidenced by the weekly receipt of letters from various localities throughout the state inquiring about vaccination, where to secure the vaccine, etc. I have endeavored through the public press to advise our cattle men of the fact that the government is supplying vaccine free of charge to all upon application. Those desiring blackleg vaccine should address the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., when an application blank will be mailed them on which they can make their request and be supplied within at least two weeks from the date of their application. I would suggest that it is always a good plan to apply for a few more doses than are actually required for the reason that there is always more or less waste. In addition to the vaccine it is only now necessary to procure an antitoxin syringe together with a porcelain mortar and pestle that can be thoroughly sterilized by boiling. This outfit can be secured for a price not exceeding $4.00 and will be serviceable for years if properly cared for. It is also an excellent idea to order a few extra needles with the syringe in case that those accompanying it may be broken.

By the above figures it will be seen that during the past three years the demand has more than doubled each year and should this obtain during the coming year a conservative estimate of the vaccine that will be used in Montana will probably exceed 150,000 doses annually. That vaccination has proven eminently successful is also evidenced by the figures given above. Personally I know of but two complaints and in both these instances the fault was probably with the operator and not with the vaccine. However, the method of applying the government vaccine is now much simplified as it is unnecessary to filter it. It is likely that the filtering process was responsible for failures in some instances.

CATTLE SCAB.

Scab among cattle has been quite prevalent again this year in the northern part of the state but the cattle men now appreciating its importance are taking the matter actively in hand so that within a few years it will no doubt be stamped out and practically unknown. Two dipping vats were constructed during the year for cattle, one by Mr. John Harris on Willow Creek, near the old station of Galata, and one by Mr. D. A. G. Flowerree at Ethridge on the line of the Great Northern. The Harris vat is a well constructed one in which cold dip was used during the past summer. The Flowerree vat is also an excellently constructed vat being provided with steam heating plant complete in all its appointments. Hot lime and sulphur dip was used in this vat which is believed to be the most efficient and cheapest remedy for this disease. As nearly as can be ascertained about 14,000 cattle were dipped and had-treated for scab during the past year. On those that were hand-treated parafine oil containing about two per cent. of sulphur was successfully and largely used. Many owners have used the more expensive lard, sulphur and carbolic acid with equal success.

INFLUENZA AMONG HORSES.

A mild form of influenza among horses was prevalent throughout the state during the late summer and early fall. Where this disease was reported an effort was made to instruct the owners in the use of influenza antitoxin, which is a preventive, and I am pleased to be able to say has been used to a limited extent very successfully.

"MONTANA HORSE DISEASE."

"Malarial fever," "Mountain fever," so-called, among horses, has been reported and investigated during the year. The number of horses attacked in each case was not large but the disease was extremely fatal. I regret that this disease has not been studied, consequently little is known about it. It is not a contagious or infectious disease, but I should say from the meagre observations I have had an opportunity to make that the disease is communicated through the medium of some of our wild grasses or some soil condition. I have never observed a case among horses that were fed grain and cultivated hay and it is mainly seen about marshy or swampy localities, and on the open range among unbroken horses that it is difficult to handle or make observation among. This disease should be more closely studied, but a man occupying my position with active field work necessary to be done does not have sufficient time to devote to it as he should.

HOG CHOLERA.

There have been no cases of hog cholera reported to this department during the year. Should it occur again in this state the hog cholera or swine plague antitoxin now distributed by the Bureau of Animal Industry should be employed, but if our quarantine proclamation is observed the disease can not well be introduced.

RABIES.

There has never been a case of rabies among dogs reported in Montana so far as I am able to learn.

HUMAN GLANDERS.

One case of glanders in man came under our observation during the past year. The case was reported by Dr. R. D. Alton, of Livingston, Park County, who diagnosed glanders in the man and suspecting his infection came from a horse in his possession, called upon me to examine the animal which I found suffering from chronic glanders, and there can be no doubt that the man received his infection from this horse, probably having some of the infective material on his hands, scratching his nose on the mucous membrane of which he probably had an abrasion and through which means he infected himself. This makes the fourth case of human glanders coming under our observation during the past four years. In each case the infection was traced directly to the infected horse in the man's possession.

Dr. Alton's report follows:

Dr. M. E. Knowles, State Veterinarian,

Helena, Montana.

Dear Sir:—In response to your request for my notes of a case of human glanders I hand you the following:

Was called December 12th, 1899, to see Mr. G——n, an Englishman by birth, of excellent physique, robust constitution, of good habits, age 43, by occupation a gardener.

Upon inquiry I learned that he had been ill for several days. The exact time could not be determined. He presented an anxious, careworn look, was lying on his back, complained of chills, had a violent head and backache, temperature 103.5 degrees F., urine scanty; no albumen or casts, bowels constipated.

The nose had an erysipelatous blush, conjunctivae congested, slight colorless, odorless discharge from the nostrils, tongue furred; dry. There was no eruption on the abdomen, nor could I learn that there had been one since he first began to complain.

The next day, Dec. 13th, the blush on the nose had extended to both molar eminences with considerable swelling of both nose and face; conjunctival congestion had increased to a marked degree.

Mind clear, chills continuing, temperature 103 degrees F., urine scanty, no albumen, no casts. On the 14th of December the symptoms were all aggravated—temperature 104.5 degrees F—with delirium and muttering during sleep from which he could be aroused with difficulty. When fully aroused his mind was clear for a short time. December 15th, swelling on face and nose increased, discharge from nostrils increased in quantity and of a disagreeable odor, discharge scalding the lip and face as it touched the skin. An ulcer developed at the junction of the bony with the cartilaginous portion of the nose.

On the 16th there were some few macular deposits first seen and felt, on the forehead.

On the 17th all symptoms aggravated, the macular deposits being softened, presenting the appearance of vesicles. On the 18th the vesicles became purulent and covered the entire body, the genitals now became of a purplish color. Urine contained albumen and a few casts. On the 19th all symptoms still further aggravated. On the 20th the genitals were gangrenous, pustulation pronounced, patient moribund. I might say that at no time did any of the pustules become umbilicated, those which first appeared breaking down leaving circular ulcerations to mark the site of primary induration.

Death followed in the early morning of Dec. 21st.

The diagnosis of this case was made only after the most painstaking and careful investigation.

Your examination of the horse from which I suspected the patient had been infected confirmed my diagnosis and established beyond a doubt the nature of the malady.

Trusting this case record may be of value to you, I am,

Yours Truly,

R. D. ALTON, M. D.

January 6th, 1901.

HEALTH CERTIFICATES ISSUED.

Health certificates, including tuberculin tests, were received by this office for thoroughbred cattle imported from other states to the number of 445—350 bulls and 95 cows.
